Novato Worker Is Crushed To Death Beneath Bulldozer

TRAPPED BY BULLDOZER—Capt. James Kidder of Novato Fire Department (rear) and Michael Mannick of California Ambulance Service, Novato, extricate body of James E. Palmer from overturned bulldozer which fell on him as he was driving it off truck on Novato ranch road today. (Independent-Journal photo)

Attempts To Drive Off Truck

A 28-year-old Novato construction worker was crushed to death beneath a bulldozer today as he attempted to drive it off a stalled truck on which he had been moving it to a Novato construction project.

James E. Palmer, 28, of 615 Sunset Parkway, father of two, was pronounced dead by a doctor called to the scene.

The crash was witnessed by Arthur Barnard Azevedo of 1112 Mirabella Avenue, Novato, who was driving another truck.

RAIN-SLICK ROAD

The two trucks met on a rain-slick road on the Pacheco Ranch about 8:15 a.m.—Azevedo en route to a rock quarry on the ranch, and Palmer headed west, hauling the 'dozer, reported Deputy Sheriff Ted Hughes. Both men were employed by Bobo's of Ignacio, general contractor.

As they attempted to pass, Palmer's truck-trailer slipped off the muddy road, its wheels going into the ditch.

SLIPPED SIDEWAYS

Palmer started to drive the bulldozer off the truck, in preparation for attempting to get that vehicle back on the road. Azevedo watched.

The 'dozer slipped sideways on the truck bed. It went over the side, flipping over.

Palmer "froze" momentarily at the controls, riding the bulldozer to his death, Azevedo related.

CALL FOR HELP

Azevedo tried unsuccessfully to free Palmer, then went a quarter mile to the nearest house to telephone for help.

Dr. Robert J. Patocchi of Novato pronounced him dead at the scene of the accident.

Palmer was moving the truck loaded with the 'dozer to the Pleasant Valley subdivision on Sutro Avenue in Novato, according to Hughes.

Palmer is survived by his wife, Grace; a daughter, April Julie, 5, a Lynwood School student; a son, James E. Palmer Jr., 4, and his mother, Mrs. Geraldine Gadt of Novato.

Palmer had been a heavy equipment operator in North Marin County all his adult life, and had worked for Bobo's for more than a year, according to Asst. Coroner William C. Bradley.

The body was taken to Redwood Chapel Funeral Home where an autopsy was to be performed.

Supervisor Gnoss Elected Chairman

Supervisor William A. Gnoss today was unanimously selected as the new chairman of the Marin County Board of Supervisors.

William D. Fusselman, last year's chairman, at opening of the day's meeting, read a short statement on his "firm belief that the chairmanship of the board should be rotated on a yearly basis."

He then nominated Gnoss, who has been vice chairman, to succeed him as chairman, and George H. Ludy for vice chairman. The rest of the board agreed.

Gnoss is the only supervisor whose term does not expire this year.

WILLIAM A. GNOSS
Fusselman's nominee

"I always felt we had a good chairman in the late Walter R. Castro," Gnoss remarked. "I will ask from each member of the board as much cooperation as possible. We have a strenuous year in front of us."

Council Set To Decide On City Hall Sale

Only Offers For San Rafael Site Come From I-J

The San Rafael City Council was to go back into session at 5:15 p.m. today to decide which of two offers to accept for sale of the city hall.

Both offers, presented at last night's city council session, are from California Newspapers Inc., publishers of the Independent-Journal. There was no other bidder.

Both offers are well above the $276,000 minimum set on the Fifth Avenue-A Street property in the city's call for bids.

RESERVE RIGHT

California Newspapers, Inc., headed by Roy A. Brown, offered $287,500 for the property under the city's Alternate One proposal. This calls for the city to reserve right of possession for two years, pending completion of a new city hall on property recently purchased along Fifth Avenue btween the city library and C Street. If the new city hall is not ready within two years, the city is to pay rent on the present hall for up to six months beyond that deadline.

The lone bidder made no offer under a second proposed alternate by which the property would be split into two parcels. The rear parcel, including the former public works department building and a parking area, would be retained for two years and the remainder, 130 by 130 feet, would be retained for 10 years as a public parking lot.

THIRD ALTERNATE

However, the bidder offered $302,500 under a third alternate of its own: immediate possession of the rear parcel, with the front parcel to be retained for two years for city hall use as in the city's Alternate One.

Said A. E. Bagshaw, attorney representing California Newspaper, Inc.: "In substance, we are offering you that much extra for use of the back lot for the next two years." The Independent-Journal seeks that portion of the property to expand its building for new newspaper presses, having outgrown its press capacity.

"I'd be quite willing to accept alternate three," declared

DONALD O. STUTSMAN
Succeeds former boss

Klahn Fired, Aide Named As Successor

Bert Klahn was dismissed as executive director of the Marin County Housing Authority and Redevelopment Agency late yesterday, and Donald O. Stutsman was named to succeed him.

The actions were announced by commissions of the authority and agency after closed sessions at their headquarters in Marin City.

SAME SALARY

Stutsman, who was Klahn's deputy, has been acting director since Klahn was suspended last Nov. 19.

As director, he will receive $15,000 per year — the same salary that was paid his predecessor.

Klahn was suspended by the commissions following a citizen's arrest by his wife who charged him with assault and battery. The charge was subsequently dropped. Belvedere police reported they had made 36 calls since Aug. 17, 1959 to the Klahn residence at 180 Beach Road, Belvedere, all listed as disturbing the peace.

LERCH ANNOUNCES

Alton Lerch, chairman of the redevelopment agency announced termination of Klahn's contract yesterday at close of a 45-minute meeting of the commissions with the former director.

Klahn, said today, "It is my hope that Marin City will be completed the way it was planned and that the people will be happy in their homes."

The commissions had before them a petition, signed by 328

Marin Planners Agree Staff Increase Needed

The Marin County Planning Commission yesterday agreed with Planning Director B. D. Dobbs that his staff should be boosted from its presently authorized 14 persons to 22.

The commission, led in their argument by Commissioner William F. Upton, also backed Dobbs in his request for more pay for planners.

Dobbs said he has asked several times for an increase in pay for planners and that each time he has been put off. He noted that in the recent mid-year salary study sent to the board of supervisors today, the recommendation again was to postpone, this time because of Dobbs' request for major changes in the staff.

"If we lose staff," commented Upton, "we also lose the time spent in acquainting these people with the job and the county."

Commissioner Henry C. Hankins asked if the proposed staff increase would preclude future need for outside consultants. Dobbs said he thought it would.

The planning director added he felt the increased staff would allow small matters, such as zoning adjustments and lot splits, to be taken off the commission agenda.

Spot Of Java To Cost More By Next Week

The retail price of coffee will go up late this week or early next week.

Shoppers throughout most of the nation will be hit by a new rise in the wholesale price of coffee announced yesterday. The increase of four cents a pound was made because of short crops of Brazilian coffee this season.

Marin market managers said it will take about a week to clear shelves of present inventory. New shipments will be offered at the new price.

Samuel Miller, manager of Safeway Store in San Rafael, said the change will be made "rather shortly." He did not know exactly what the retail price change would be.

Some other market managers said they were watching Safeway, but one market manager estimated that the price of instant coffee will take the biggest jump, going from $1.39 to $1.59 and $1.65 for a 10-ounce jar.

COFFEE NOT GOLDWATER'S CUP OF TEA

CONCORD, N. H. (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, who will be guest of honor at nine coffee hours in three days, said today he doesn't drink coffee.

The candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, said:

"I've never tasted coffee, although I enjoy the smell. My mother told me I'd never grow tall if I smoked or drank coffee.

"I'm now six feet tall."

Moratorium On Fill Asked

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown was urged to call a special session of the 1964 legislature to consider a three-year moratorium on filling of San Francisco Bay.

Chairman Edwin L. Z'berg, (D-Sacramento) of the Assembly planning subcommittee said hearings have shown that immediate action is needed.

The legislature convenes Feb. 3 for a 30-day session which is limited to consideration of the state budget and finances unless the governor places other matters before it in a special call.

Z'berg also called for legislation to rewrite state tide lands grants to local governments to stipulate that any filling must conform to a regional plan.

Tax Estimate Problem Is Hashed Over

The tangled problem of giving the public an early estimate of a county tax rate without putting county officials, including supervisors, under unusual public pressure was hashed over today by the board of supervisors, with no solution.

Supervisor Peter H. Behr suggested that the board, starting with the 1964-65 fiscal year budget, tell the county administrator how much he will be allowed to recommend for spending and then let him work out a budget within that figure.

"There's no use talking about economy unless we have a figure," he said. "We could say it shouldn't go more than 5 or 10 per cent above the previous year's budget."

County administrator Alan Bruce said he could not work within any fixed limit. He said federal and state laws create categories which are, essential-

Alcatraz Island Is Suggested For Bridge Anchorage

Possibility of using Alcatraz Island as a central anchorage for a new bridge between Marin County and San Francisco was suggested yesterday by San Francisco Mayor-elect John F. Shelley.

Shelley, who will take office tomorrow, said it will be up to a presidential commission to determine the disposition of the former federal prison site.

One of the five members of the commission is to be named by the mayor of San Francisco. Shelley said he did not know whether outgoing Mayor George Christopher had suggested a nominee to President Lyndon B. Johnson.

Shelley said he believed the island might make a bridge anchorage as he viewed plans for its possible use on display at the San Francisco Public Library.

Kidney Patient Dies

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—Jefferson Davis, his resistance lowered by drugs that kept his body from rejecting life-saving chimpanzee kidneys, died yesterday of pneumonia.

Davis' adopted kidneys served him two months without faltering. He died from a pneumonia which could have been more handily battled if his system had not been loaded with drugs to fight the "rejection mechanism.

U.N. For Cyprus

NICOSIA, Cyprus (UPI)—Archbishop Makarios, president of Cyprus, agreed last night to permit a United Nations observer to police the cease-fire between the island's feuding Greek and Turkish communities.

More than 200 persons have been killed since fighting broke out between the Greek and Turkish Cypriots last month. British troops were enforcing a truce, but new bloodshed was feared.

Cathedral Doomed

MOSCOW (UPI) — Russian Orthodox worshipers celebrated Christmas with crowded masses today, but learned that their 18th-Century cathedral soon will be torn down.

Reliable sources said the Cathedral of the Epiphany, well-known to tourists, will become a victim of "progress." It will be removed as part of the city's reconstruction plan. Another church in a different location will replace it.

Lady Bird Concerned

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Lady Bird Johnson thinks the president is working too hard—so hard, in fact, she can't get to talk to him about it and has to leave him notes.

The first lady attached a memo to the president's pillow Sunday night "making a definite recomendation that I take an hour and a half off in the afternoon," Johnson said.

The chief executive told the story on himself yesterday during a White House reception for executive mansion employees.

Strike At Prison

SOLEDAD (AP) — A sitdown strike by convicts has closed the industrial section of Soledad State Prison and 1,200 prisoners have been locked in their cells.

Report On Ruby

DALLAS (AP) — Dist. Atty. Henry Wade said yesterday a lengthy police department investigation of the slaying of Lee Harvey Oswald shows "no evidence of collusion" between Jack Ruby and police officers.

Wade's statement came after he received a detailed two-volume report from Police Chief Jesse Curry on Ruby's slaying of the 24-year-old accused assassin of President John F. Kennedy.

Pope At Work In Vatican

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Paul VI returned to his Vatican desk today after his historic Holy Land pilgrimage and reportedly began work on the first encyclical of his seven-month reign.

The 66-year-old pontiff, who shattered Roman Catholic precedent with his flying pilgrimage to the Bible land, was said to have in mind an entirely new type of encyclical devoted to scientific and technological research.

Informants said experts would help draw up the encyclical, timed apparently to coincide with the 400th anniversary this year of the birth of Galileo Galilei, 16th century Italian astronomer and experimental philosopher.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Trial date for three men accused of kidnaping Frank Sinatra Jr. has been tentatively set for Feb. 10 before U.S. District Judge William G. East.

Charged in the six-count grand jury indictment are Joseph Clyde Amsler and Barry Worthington Keenan, both 23, and John William Irwin, 42.

Judge East granted a request for a psychiatric examination for Amsler after his attorney said the defendant was mentally incompetent when young Sinatra was abducted Dec. 8 from Stateline.

At a news conference yesterday Carmen said she was preparing breakfast:

"I had some knives in my hand. He (Bartholomae) wasn't feeling well. He came down in his bathrobe . . .

"I had a sharp pain. I couldn't move. My sister (Miss Minola Gallardo, 32) was close by me. He was coming toward me. He was walking funny.

"I know I did have blood on my hands . . . I just don't know what happened."

Personal income was expected to climb to 55.5 billion dollars in 1964, three billion dollars more than was earned by Californians in 1963. This would be a per capita average of $3,037.

DIOR KIN SPLITS WITH 'FUEHRER'

PARIS (UPI)—Mrs. Francoise Jordan, neice of the founder of the Dior Fashion House, said last night her marriage to self-styled British Fuehrer Colin Jordan is over. She called him a "carpet slipper doctrinaire."

Mrs. Jordan, 31, whose maiden name is Dior, said she left England several weeks ago and wrote her husband to tell him their three-month marriage is ended.

The couple's wedding in England last October included a ceremony in which they mixed their blood and swore oaths over a copy of Adolf Hitler's 'Mein Kampf." It set off rioting and police were called to protect them from crowds that threw eggs and rocks.

At the time of her marriage, the House of Dior issued a statement disassociating itself from her.

Goldwater Labels LBJ New Dealer

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater, keynoting his bid for the White House has called President Lyndon B. Johnson a New Dealer who talks like a conservative and faces the liability of programs inherited fro President John F. Kennedy.

"I am going to do everything in my power to return the presidency of the United tSates to made this nation great and which can make it greater," the Arizona senator declared last night in his first address as a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination.

Goldwater said he thinks he already has some 500 of the 655 delegate votes it would take to win him top spot on the GOP ticket at the San Francisco convention next July.

Golwater made his first campaign speech at a $100-a-plate fund-raising dinner which originally was scheduled Nov. 23, the day after Kennedy was assassinated.

He got a polite reception in a half-empty hall. Local Republicans explained they admited only party contributers who bought tickets. They said 879 were sold.

Goldwater said he respects Johnson but considers him 'first of all today a leader bound by the commitments of his party. And in that role I shall and do oppose him with all the support I can gather. For his party is wrong.

"The president will expound on his inheritance from his predecesor's administration," Goldwater said. 'These inherited proposals he must not and he cannot reject-or even materially revise."

2-Car Accident Stalls Traffic

Commute traffic was held up last night by a two-car accident in the rain just south of the Alto interchange on Highway 101 at 4:55 p.m.

The California Highway Patrol reported a car driven by Milton Dale Handley, 33, of 492 Calle Arboleda, Novato, stopped for heavy traffic and was hit in the rear by a car being driven by Joseph J. Bernstein, 52, of 191 Morningsun Avenue, Mill Valley.

Handley complained of a neck pain and Bernstein told highway patrol officers that he would seek treatment for a bump on the head.

Dolly Fritz Sues Mother Over Estate

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Controversy between Mrs. Dolly Fritz MacMasters and her mother over the multi-million dollar estate of Eugene N. Fritz was back in the courts today.

Mrs. MacMasters, who eloped to Mexico City two years ago and now lives in Paris, yesterday filed suit here against Mrs. Marguerite Fritz Tharp asking for a division of property valued at over 20 million dollars.

Fritz, who died in Paris in 1950, disinherited Mrs. Tharp in his will and left his entire estate to the daughter, who was then 14.

Mrs. Tharp had filed suit for separate maintenance shortly before his death, asking 2.5 million dollars as her share of community property and $5,000 a month support.

She threatened to contest his will, but that ended with a compromise agreement under which the daughter got two-thirds the estate and the mother one-third.

Yesterday, the daughter asked to have her two-thirds interest declared her separate property. The suit was filed by the San Francisco law firm of Heller, Ehrman, White and McAuliffe. A spokesman said that there was no rancor in the dispute, but that the action was designed merely to end the common ownership. The spokesman said no change of management was involved.

But attorney Vincent Mullins, representing Mrs. MacMasters, indicated that the court action was anything but amicable. He said "This is a sad situation. We are very sorry to see this lawsuit filed. We will make our position known at the proper time.

Two Fined For Drunk Driving

Two men were fined and a third was sent to jail yesterday in Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving offenses.

Edward Smith, 47, of 1410 Third Street, San Rafael, was fined $166 for driving while drunk in Larkspur last Dec. 22. Norman Reed Hudson, 21, of 55 Canal Street, San Rafael, was fined $100 for drunken driving Dec. 13 on Highway 101. Jack Leroy Smith, 29 of 849 Reichert Avenue, Novato, said he could not afford a fine and was sentenced to county jail for five days, to be served on weekends.

Judge Leonard A. Thomas ordered all three men on probation for six months.

Sewer For Agency

'SECRET' LEADS TO LBJ

He Got Whomping From Teacher For Clowning Around In Class

NEW YORK (AP) — A telephone call awaited Daniel Garcia when the Cotulla, Tex., furniture and appliance dealer finished his appearance on the "I've Got A Secret" television show last night.

It was Garcia's "secret" that prompted the call from President Lyndon B. Johnson, inviting Garcia to the White House today.

The secret?

Garcia was a sixth-grade pupil in Cotulla, had been given a whomping by his teacher for clowning around in class.

The teacher was Lyndon B. Johnson.

The "I've Got a Secret" panel on the Columbia Broadcasting Systems show had guessed the circumstances but not the teacher's name.

As Garcia, now 49, married and the father of four, stepped offstage, he was told of the phone call for him.

His account of the conversation went like this:

"Hello, Daniel. I just finished watching you. Tell me—does it still hurt?"

"Oh, no Mr. President. I treasure the memory."

"You're very photogenic," Johnson continued. "I congratulate you. And I'd like for you to come down to Washington and visit me. Can you do it?"

"Why, yes, sure—and many thanks," Garcia replied. He is going to Washington today.

Garcia recalled to newsmen what is was like to get a spanking by Johnson.

Garcia was then 13 and Johnson a tall, rangy youth of about 19 or 20.

Johnson, he said, took him by the hand and led him from the classroom to an office.

"I was kind of a pet of his," Garcia said, "and I figured I'd probably get off with a lecture. But he didn't say a word. He just turned me across his knee and began whacking me on the backside.

"He hit me quite a few times, and he hit hard. It hurt.

"Then he let me go, still not saying a word, and walked back into our room with me. I went to my seat and he went on to the next recitation period as if nothing had happened."

Garcia has kept in touch with his old teacher over the years. Last year, he said, he was a guest at the LBJ Ranch.

Haitian Family Delayed

Larkspur real estate broker Maggi Walker, hoping to bring the father of a Haitian family back with her to Marin County, found during the holidays that restrictions would hold up departure of his family for at least six months.

Mrs. Walker said that she went to Haiti on Christmas Eve with an airplane ticket for Edouard Celidor. Once the father got to the United States, she thought there would be no trouble in bringing the rest of the family.

She found that the family was restricted from leaving Haiti until all other persons desiring to leave who had relatives in the United States had departed. She said this would delay their departure six to eight months.

During a visit to Haiti in March, 1963, Mrs. Walker met the family of six. Celidor is in the tour business, but political upheaval and the damage of Hurricane Flora in October halted the flow of tourists to Haiti.

Mrs. Walker said she has been sending the family clothing which they can sell. Their sole means of support is a sister who owns a bakery.

She said she planned to talk to talk to Rep. Donald H. Clausen (R-Crescent City) to learn if there might be a way to speed the Celidor family's move to the United States.

Library Bonds On April Ballot?

Mill Valley city councilmen discussed last night whether there is time to get the proposed bond issue for a new library on the April 14 ballot, but agreed they could not act until the library board meets Thursday.

"If they want to proceed," said Mayor Joseph E. Sheeks, "we must do what is necessary (to place it on the ballot) on Jan. 20." Councilman George Blackwell said, "All we need is the cost of the bond."

Manuel Gomez told the council that two former bond issues for a library failed because of "poor salesmanship and poor publicity." He suggested it would be a mistake to put it on the April ballot.

Education Board For More Power

The Marin County Board of Education should be the final decision-making body on such matters as school district organization and district boundaries, the board decided last night.

In a 5 to 2 vote, the board of education asked the supervisors to transfer those functions to it, and also to assume financial responsibility for any costs involved in carrying out the functions.

The county supervisors can transfer those functions to the school board by passing a resolution, under a new state law.

Mrs. Adele J. Alpers and Ben Roark Jr. dissented. Mrs. Alpers explained she voted no because "I am not sure."

Supt. Virgil S. Hollis reported that only two counties in the state have adopted the law thus far.

The County Board of Education decided to make no recommendation on adopting provisin of a much more drastic new law which would transfer major functions such as budget and tax levy powers from the supervisors to the school board.

Both members agreed with Hollis that this law needs further clarification.

State Says Condemned Given Benefits Too

All prisoners at San Quentin, including those on Death Row, get benefits from the Inmate Welfare Fund assessments, the state alleged yesterday in answer to a complaint from condemned murderer William J. Ford.

Ford declared in a writ of habeas corpus that he was required to pay an "illegal" 10 per cent assessment on legal paper, typewriter ribbons and other supplies he purchases at the prison exchange. The money goes to a welfare fund, which he said will be of no use to him since he is condemned.

Edward P. O'Brien, deputy state attorney general, submitted a reply to the writ in Marin Superior Court, stating the funds is for the "benefit, education and welfare of all inmates." He also pointed out that the assessment did not interfere with Ford's appeals to higher courts.

Four petitions from Ford for a review of his case have been denied in district, circuit and state supreme courts. The convict has been on Death Row since Dec. 15, 1961, for the murder of a San Luis Obispo County deputy sheriff. Last year he complained in another writ that he was not getting sufficient carbon paper to write up his appeals.

Judge Richard M. Sims Jr. gave Ford until next Monday to file a reply to the attorney general's statement.

Ex-Felon Gets Continuance, But Girl Friend Released

Ex-convict Joseph Andrew York was granted a continuance yesterday in Marin Municipal Court to answer an armed robbery charge, but his 19-year-old girl friend was released.

York, 36, Novato housepainter, and Viola Toomaysuk Oxereok of San Rafael were arrested Sunday morning on suspicion of the armed robbery Saturday night of $1,275 from the Tamalpais Delicatessen-Liquor Drive-In at 638 Fourth Street, San Rafael.

Judge Leonard A. Thomas gave York until Thursday to find an attorney before answering the charge. The judge refused York's request that bail of $11,000 be reduced, because of a prior record of robbery and assault.

Miss Oxereok was not held, at the request of the district attorney's office and San Rafael police. Deputy Dist. Atty. William L. Mackey said she was arrested only because she was with York when police found his car near McNear's Beach.

"She was very uncooperative at first," Mackey said, "but we found out later that she was not with York at the time of the alleged robbery and apparently had nothing whatsoever to do with it."

Marinwood Park Post Discussed

Marinwood park and recreation commissioners last night discussed a job description for the community services district's recreation director and did more preliminary work on a formal recreation program using the newly opened community center at 775 Miller Creek Road.

The group tentatively decided to open the building for general activities two hours a day, and to have it available most of the rest of the day and evening to interested groups.

The commission recommended to the district directors that dedication ceremonies for the community center be postponed until the pool and park development are also completed.

Works Director Is On Agenda

A special meeting of the Novato City Council has been called for noon tomorrow for selecting a director of public works, according to Mayor M. E. (Babe) Silva.

The council interviewed four applicants for the job last Sunday afternoon. These were finalists in tests given by Griffenhagen-Kroeger Inc. of San Francisco.

Charles Joseph, first director of public works for the city, left the city on Dec. 31, to take a position with the Novato Sanitary District.

Peaceful Belvedere Meeting

A three-month-old baby boy slept peacefully through an orderly Belvedere City Council meeting last night.

The Roger Feltons and infant were members of a small, polite audience.

Councilman E. G. Weed was granted an eight-foot height variance for a proposed Belvedere Avenue dwelling, over the gentle protest of planning commission chairman George Banning.

Only flurry of the quiet evening came at 9:30 when Neville H. Rich strode across the room and plopped himself in a chair by the council table, saying, "Can you make these meetings audible?"

Rich then scolded the council for disregarding the planning commission's recommendations. Councilman John H. Flint replied: "We know what our duties are and what the planning commission's are. The legal duties belong to the city council."

Councilman Sally Matthews pursued the question of Belvedere's right to annex property within the proposed area of Tiburon incorporation. City Atty. William M. Mac Kay said, "It seems impossible to act at this time."

Mrs. Matthews reported on the Assn. of Bay Area Governments efforts to prevent bay filling, which have the strong support of the council.

The Belvedere City Council also:

1. Replied to a letter from the City of Sausalito desirous of a uniform hotel room tax ordinance, saying the council is sympathetic with the problem but cannot enact ordinances the city does not need (there is no hotel in Belvedere).
2. Took no action on an Army Corps of Engineers letter regarding extension of "snug harbor," residence of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Davis at 1 Bellevue Avenue, Corinthian Island 35 feet into Belvedere Cove.
3. Learned from the city manager that a study is being made of a proposed sewer plant for the west side of Belvedere Island.
4. Heard a favorable report from Councilman John Moore, delegate to the County Human Rights Commission.
5. Permotted Phillip A. Wooster of 266 Beach Road to construct a 42-inch fence along the road.

Novato Board Asks Purchase Of School Site

The Novato Unified School District board last night asked the State Allocations Board to purchase a 25-acre site for a junior high school and a 10-acre site for an elementary school.

The junior high school site would be on the Sinoloa Ranch at Wilson Avenue and Vineyard Road, and the elementary site would be on the Pimentel Ranch at Mill and Trumbull roads. Both sites were approved yesterday by the Marin County Planning Commission.

The board met also in an executive session with Douglas J. Maloney, county counsel, to discuss the pending condemnation suits on the Richard Cannell property on South Novato Boulevard for an addition to the Rancho School property and Sunset International Petroleum Corp. for a 10-acre elementary school site in San Marin.

Library Session Off

The meeting of the San Anselmo Library board scheduled for last night has been postponed to 7:30 p.m. Jan. 27, librarian Virginia Stewart announced today.

'SERIOUS SUBJECT'

Tree In Mill Valley Is Saved From Axe

A tree is a tree is a tree in Mill Valley.

Hence, after many dissertations from tree lovers, the city council last night voted unanimously to save the 50-year-old leaning oak which stands in the street at West Blithedale and Cottage avenues.

"Do not remove the tree," asked Herman Hein, tree committee chairman, by letter.

"Ask Hein to prune the tree, get the (Richard D.) Riders (who live behind the tree) to plant a substitute, and review the traffic situation in one year," suggested Mrs. William B. Allen, parks and recreation commissioner.

Jerome B. Hauke, also on the parks and recreation commission, stuck to his guns, saying the city engineer, police chief and park superintendent said the tree should go.

"It's a very serious subject," commented Councilman William M. Secor. "The park superintendent said the tree is diseased and is liable to tumble down. I would hate to see it crack on somebody."

"Mr. Hein said it's healthy," said Mrs. Rider. "It does slow traffic."

"The tree doesn't look any worse than the tree of Bethelehem," said Councilman George D. Monardo.

Councilman Michael Vornum moved the tree be saved.

"The tree is saved!" announced Mayor Joseph E. Sheeks majestically, then added with caution, "temporarily anyway."

Fair Housing Group Member

Dr. Daniel A. Collins of 700 Summit Avenue, Mill Valley, a member of the State Board of Education, is one of 10 prominent Californian's making up the "Fair Housing Advertisement Committee."

The group has urged Californians to resist bigotry in housing, back the Rumford Fair Housing Act and not support the repeal initiative on the law.

Collins, a dentist, has a practice in San Francisco.

Instant Aging Supplied

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—A process providing "instant aging" for rice has been invented by a U. S. Department of Agriculture scientist here. Compared with six to ten months for natural aging it takes only a few hours. The process is to seal it up for six hours at 200 degrees temperature.

Surpluses For Korea

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — South Korean government sources reported today that the United States has tentatively agreed to ship 400,000 tons of American farm surpluses to South Korea as the initial shipment under the 1964 surplus farm commodities program.

Corte Madera Town Clerk Resigns Job

Corte Madera Town Clerk Nell Rugg last night handed her resignation to the town council, effective Jan. 31.

Mrs. Rugg said she was resigning because her husband had been transferred to the Phoenix office of the Pacific Fire Rating Bureau.

She said she and her husband, A. J. Rugg, reached the decision to move to Phoenix over the weekend.

A resident of Corte Madera for two years, Mrs. Rugg took over the town clerk's job from Nadeen Tuttle last May 13, after Mrs. Tuttle resigned to spend more time at home with her family.

Town Mgr. Arthur H. Brandow will recruit another clerk immediately, he said.

Leake Is New Chairman Of Equalization Board

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Paul Leake, Woodland newspaper publisher, started a new term as chairman of the Board of Equalization today.

A board member since 1952, Leake took over the rotating chairmanship of the tax-administering board from John W. Lynch of Tulare.

Ordinance On North Ridge Introduced Over Protests

The Mill Valley City Council last night introduced an ordinance to rezone 280 acres of North Ridge land from 20,000 to 100,000 square feet per unit to planned residential. The action was taken over protests of two property owners.

Planned residential permits developers leeway on lot sizes on land which is mainly very steep and irregular.

John D. Erickson, city planning consultant, in explaining the ordinance, said there would be an overall density of .9 of one dwelling unit per acre. He said Manuel Gomez, property owner, would have seven building sites on his five acres and Dr. J. Alfred Rider, with 18 acres would have 11 building sites.

Rider objected to the zoning saying he preferred to keep his present zoning of 40,000 square feet and that he has three lots up for sale now under that category.

Also protesting was Mervin Silberberg, who declared he was not being treated equitably since he was originally promised by council 137 sites on 86 acres and may now end up with but 105 or 110 sites. "I say the master plan is at fault," said Silberberg.

The council, earlier in the evening, adopted a planned residential ordinance.

Two Plead Guilty To Theft Charges

Tyrone Perry (alias James L. McKinley), of Marin City and Harold Homer Briscoe of San Francisco pleaded guilty yesterday in Marin Superior Court to charges of second degree burglary.

The two were arrested Dec. 11 by Mill Valley police for breaking into the J and B Ford Sales paint shop at 250 East Blithedale Avenue. Judge Richard M. Sims Jr. set Jan. 27 for hearing of probation reports and sentencing.

Vandals Strike At New Home

Vandals broke into a new house at 20 Hepburn Heights, San Rafael, damaging light fixtures, glass windows, and floors, police said today.

T. O. Nance, 562 Idylberry Road, Lucas Valley, salesman for Kaehler-Farrar Development Inc., San Rafael, told police entry to his firm's house was gained over the weekend by breaking out a window.

Another firm spokesman said damage cost was slightly under $500. The house is valued at $35,000, he added.

THE BUTCHER BOY WHO BECAME A CATTLE KING

As a youthful apprentice in his father's little butcher shop in Germany, Henry Miller dreamed of a million sleek cattle, ranging on a million acres of his own land. Miller was only fifteen when he followed the dream to America... barely thirty when he began the buying of land and cattle that made his dream a reality.

At one time Miller owned all the land for fifty miles on both sides of the San Joaquin River. People knew him as a shrewd horsetrader, who could outmaneuver the financial barons of his time—and reason his way out of a hanging by the bandit Garcia. He was a hard fighter when challenged, but a good, considerate neighbor even to the smallest ranchers on the other side of his fences. Above all, Henry Miller was a man who managed his money to generate prosperity, for all men as well as himself.

Since Henry Miller's time in the 1880's, Citizens has always recognized this primary function of money... indeed the tradition of sound management at Citizens has always been reflected in dependable service and good dividends. It is a tradition you can share today at Citizens—for five generations the better place to save.

Mart Closes Higher In Heavy Trading

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market closed irregularly higher today. Trading was heavy.

Volume for the day was estimated at 5.6 million shares compared with 5.5 million yesterday.

Except for a scattering of issues, gains and losses ranged between fractions and a point.

A 3-point advance by Youngstown Sheet highlighted steels. Republic and U.S. Steel gained nearly a point each.

Liggett and Myers, down about 3, was an outstanding loser among tobaccos. Losses approaching a point were posted by Lorillard and R. J. Reynolds. The government report on smoking and health is due Saturday.

G. D. Searle, down more than a point in further profit taking, looked like the day's most active stock.

Northwest Air Lines spurted more than 3. Gains of a point or so were scored by Korvette, IBM, U.S. Smelting, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer and Johns-Manville.

Magnavox sank more than a point and Litton Industries more than 2.

Superior Oil rebounded 35 points from yesterday's 30-point loss.

General Motors lost nearly a point.

Continued Holding Of Quality Stocks Advised

NEW YORK (UPI)—"The continued holding of good quality stocks seems advisable," says the Alexander Hamilton Institute. "We are reluctant to advise new commitments pending further clarification of political and economic developments.

"Except for the temporary reaction at the time of President Kennedy's assassination, the market has been in new high ground for the past three months."

"However," the institute adds, "it has exhibited little enthusiasm for a renewed advance despite prospects for general business continuing at a high level for some months longer."

Goodbody and Co. notes that "at this time of year, many investors find themselves with surplus cash, the result of record year-end dividends, interest income, wage and salary bonuses, gifts and perhaps maturing savings plans. Most of these funds will be seeking investment and common stocks will continue to be the favored medium for the investor interested in a combination of income and capital growth."

"It would not be surprising to see some 'January sales' this month, prices cut well under some of the late 1963 retail levels," says the Granville Market Letter. "A January sale in Wall Street would have some interesting implications for what the year 1964 holds for such a sale would be accompanied by some rosy predictions about where the economy is headed."

OFF TO NEW OFFICE

Supt. Dennie B. Willis tacks up sign in front of old school house that has served as administrative offices for the Dixie School District for many years. The sign gives location of the new office, to which the district staff moved today. The old building, about 100 years old, will still be used by the district for maintenance.

White's Furniture To Move Back To San Rafael After Five Years

After five years at San Anselmo's hub intersection, White's Furniture will move in another 10 days or so to new quarters again—back in San Rafael where it used to be. This time the store will be at 124 Jacoby Street (at Francisco Boulevard West). The San Anselmo spot is prominent but lacks sufficient parking facilities. There's no problem like that on Jacoby Street. White's specializes in unpainted furniture.

Takes executive post

EDWARD L. TAGWERKER of Greenbrae has been promoted to executive vice president of Bankers Mortgage Co., headquartered in San Francisco. The firm maintains an office in San Rafael.

Prior to assuming this post Tagwerker was senior administrative officer. He joined Bankers two years ago as vice president in charge of Southern California operations after several years in executive positions with other California mortgage companies.

A NEW CORPORATION which is expected to have its production quarters based in Marin County someday is P.A.C. Manufacturing, Inc. One of the principals in this firm is Frank R. Gately of Santa Venetia, a polygraph examiner for the U.S. Armed Forces.

To save you looking up "polygraph" in the dictionary — that is a lie detector. And the new firm will be engaged in the manufacturing of lie detector equipment accessories.

At the moment it is primarily concerned with the production of portable seating for the polygraph examiner when he is in the field. This piece of equipment was invented by Gately and he has applied for a patent. Along with other equipment, it will be manufactured in San Francisco by George Malson, who is also business manager.

Gately's present activities are off-hour while he's with the government. After his retirement in two years or so, things will be different.

National distribution has already been set up with Stoelting and Co. of Chicago, one of the leading manufacturers of lie detectors in the country. West Coast distributor is George F. Cake of Berkeley.

REAL ESTATE LOANS in Marin during November dropped off more than 25 per cent from loans in November a year ago. It was not unexpected — construction was also down. Loans were down also in Alameda, San Francisco, San Mateo and Santa Clara counties. Contra Costa, Napa and Sonoma counties showed some gains.

Marin's loan statistics are far and away ahead of 1962 in the 11-month period, however. Actually the period of January through November in 1963 was ahead of the entire year of 1962.

Perennial competitor with Marin in recordings of deeds, subdivisions and subdivision lots is Sonoma County. Marin led in deed recordings in November but is a nose behind for the 11-month period. December figures aren't in yet; with luck they may pull things up to a tie.

NEXT MONTH, Dodge will start production of three new compact trucks — a delivery van, a bus and a pickup—all similar in styling to models being produced by Volkswagen, Ford and Chevrolet. All three Dodge compacts have a 90-inch wheelbase. The van has a capacity of 213 cubic feet. They will be available with either the 101 or 140-horsepower Dodge-six engines. Three-speed manual transmission is standard, three-speed automatic is offered as an option.

They will be sold in Marin at Shamrock Motors in San Rafael and Mill Valley and at Nave's Dodge and Dodge Dart, Novato.

BANK OF AMERICA has inaugurated a professional billing service for physicians and dentists as a new addition to its business services.

Utilizing teletransmission, the new service will provide computer processing of patient accounts, prepare and mail monthly statements, prepare reports, including daily transactions and balances and a detailed monthly analysis, report number of patients seen, list new ones, report delinquent accounts and details on fees received.

The service will be linked to physicians' or dentists' offices by telephone lines direct to the bank's computer, which will be activated automatically when transmissions take place.

He and his wife, Louise, and 8-year-old daughter live at 45 Corte Cayuga, Greenbrae.

In a letter accompanying the petition, Mrs. Thurman Barnes of House 102, Marin City wrote: "We the tenants of Marin City take great pride in presenting to you this petition in behalf of a man whom we know has served Marin City well. . . .

"He (Klahn) and others together have succeeded in developing this project into one of the most beautiful communities in the nation."

COUNCIL

Councilman Charles W. Aby.

Other councilmen, however, wanted to make sure just what would be given up immediately under this proposal. City Mgr. Dan E. Andersen asked he be given a week to have measurements taken and engineering done.

"Didn't you just take measurements in preparation for this sale?" Aby asked City Engineer Dominic Selmi.

The engineer replied he had done so, but did not have the figures and drawings at the city hall last night. Mayor John F. McInnis then directed the meeting be resumed at 5:15 p.m. today to reach a decision.

In original plans for financing the new city hall, the city council estimated $250,000 could be realized from sale of the present city hall property. A later appraisal resulted in the $276,000 minimum price

Chamber Sets 1964 Budget In Novato

Novato Chamber of Commerce directors last night adopted a $20,032 budget for 1964, an increase of $5,282 over last year.

The salary of Andrew Bretz, manager, was raised from $4,800 to $7,200 per year; that of Mrs. Patricia Reynolds, secretary, from $3,280 to $3,540 per year.

Income from dues was estimated at $10,000, with $6,000 expected from the City of Novato and $5,000 from the County of Marin. Last year the city gave $4,500; the county, $3,500.

Ross Tankersley was named treasurer by president Richard Nave. Eugene Trombley was appointed to the unexpired two-year term of Ralph Briggs, who resigned from the board.

The North Marin Industrial Committee, which has been functioning independently since its inception four months ago, became a chamber committee.

Bretz reported 10,000 new city maps are to be delivered the end of this month. This is double the number ordered by the chamber in the past, he said.

The following committee chairmen were named: Dr. Leo A. Wagner, annual dinner and breakfasts; Leif W. Evensen, by-laws; Elmer Anderson, education; Dr. Dan J. Aughney and Alfred W. Bowman, industrial; Wayne Womack and Ed Grundstrom, legislative; Lee C. Wise, membership; Ronald E. Lipe, military affairs; Clayton L. Randle, publicity; Robert R. Rankin and Henry Puccinelli, retail, and Eugene R. Thombley, tax study.

ly, open-end budgets, depending on need.

Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker said he would rather see a prediction of total county expenditure than a prediction of the tax rate. "When you're talking of the tax rate, you're dealing in added variables, like the assessed valuation," he said.

Treasurer-tax collector Stanley J. Fontez arose to say that estimates of total expenditures may be significant, but that the individual tax-payer wants to know the tax rate because he wants to know how much government is going to cost him.

Auditor - controller Michael Mitchell, who drew fire from Bruce last year for releasing estimates of tax rates in the late spring, said he intends to continue the practice; but he said his figures would be qualified by the statement that estimates of revenue and costs can change.

"What is the value of the estimate?" Leydecker asked. "I agree the public has a right to know, but you can't make an accurate projection. It doesn't benefit the public to say we will have a $2.50 tax rate when we end up at $2.20."

"I like to see them estimate a little high and have us cut it," said chairman William A. Gnoss. "I think the public appreciates that."

British Starting Trade With Cuba

HAVANA (UPI)—The British today challenged the American economic blockade of Cuba with a multi-million dollar sale of buses and spare parts to the Castro Communist regime.

The deal was announced simultaneously in Havana and London. It involved immediate purchase of 400 urban buses for 11.2 million dollars and more than one million dollars for spare parts.

GROUNDHOG MONTH EARLY

This girl groundhog named Woody, held by owner John Brakin, awoke on Jan. 2—and that's one month too soon for any selfrespecting weather predicting groundhog to be de-hibernating. Woody doesn't seem to be retiring until Groundhog Day, Feb. 2, even though she first went to sleep at Lynchburg, Va., and came to Orlando with John's parents snug in her box nest in the family car.

CONGRESS OPENS ITS NEW SESSION

Demo Leaders Promise President Tax Cut, Civil Rights Measure Will Be Passed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The election-year session of the 88th Congress opened today with calls by administrative leaders for hard work and fast action on priority bills to cut taxes and bolster minority rights.

Democratic leaders, gaveling House and Senate to order at noon, already were hammering out plans to speed up the legisiative machinery. It ground so slowly in the first session that members were kept on the job through Dec. 30.

At a pre-session White House strategy session, the leaders promised President Lyndon B. Johnson swift action on his top priority bills—a House-approved 11 billion dollar tax cut and an anti-discrimination measure aimed at safeguarding Negro rights in voting, schools, jobs, and use of public accommodations.

Senate Democratic Whip Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota talking to reporters after the meeting with Johnson, said the aim was to get the tax cut measure through Congress and on the president's desk "not later than the end of February."

Humphrey also said Democratic leaders will insist on a "good, strong, effective" civil rights bill.

Mill Valley's City Manager Has Evening In 'Hot Chair'

Bert A. Balmer was welcomed last night to his "first evening in the hot chair" by Mayor Joseph E. Sheeks of Mill Valley and by mid-evening there was promise the seat would indeed be warm by April.

Balmer is Mill Valley's new city manager, replacing A. E. Almcrants, who resigned after a fuss with the council last October.

The hint of a "warm chair" came after Councilman George D. Monardo suggested Balmer study enlarging the department of public works to include other departments. He did not specify which ones.

"Maybe a number of crews could be moved back and fourth in summer and winter," said Monardo, "and maybe some equipment could be used by both departments."

Councilman George Blackwell suggested that Balmer look into the proposal, and Monardo added, "particularly if he (Balmer) is going to do some streamlining of the system and if we're going to wind up with some reorganization."

Asked if he could get the report back in a month, Balmer said he needed two or three months.

He added that he has not received adequate applications for the job of park superintendent, to be vacated by Supt. Joseph F. Penders who has been demoted to greenskeeper but is remaining as superintendent until a new man is found. Balmer said he was going to ask the council for a month's extension of time to advertise the superintendent's position.

Sheeks said the new department of public works might include parks in addition to the present coverage of streets and sanitation.

"You could take this further and see about the golf course situation," said Councilman Michael Wornum.

"We're now without two greenskeepers," said Councilman William M. Secor.

"This is Mr. Balmer's problem," said Monardo and Sheeks.

"This soft talk has been heard on the sidewalks for the last three weeks," said Manuel Gomez from the audience. "If I was a department head in Mill Valley, I would be shaking in my boots." Gomez suggested Balmer be given a "fair chance" and that city employees have a chance "to cool off their heels over what we have just gone through.

"First let him (Balmer) get acquainted with what Mill Valley is and what we have got. We have also got a new city council coming in in a few months." (The municipal election will be April 14.)

A small band of residents charged "gross inefficiency" of the public works department, saying they should have been forewarned by the city of the installation of the new Corte Madera Avenue sewer line so they could have tied into it when the street was torn up last year. Noreen Farnham said, by letter, this will mean tearing up the street twice for some residents to hook up.

Ross Benson, public works head, said the former city engineer instructed him where to cut in laterals in installing the new line.

Sheeks asked City Engineer Stanley M. Bala to study the situation. A resolution of intent to abandon the old sewer line was continued.

The Mill Valley City Council also:

1. Set for Jan. 20 a public hearon the Enchanted Knolls drainage study.
2. Agreed to spend $84,447 to match an equal sum from the fund of the urban thoroughfare agreement, to make East Blithedale Avenue four lanes from Camino Alto to Highway 101, and appointed Balmer as representative to the urban thoroughfare committee. Balmer was directed to meet with property owners along East Blithedale to obtain deeds of right of way.
3. Introduced an ordinance to do away with a bond for city clerk and city treasurer since they are not needed with the end of the treasurer's job in April and the city clerk's job being handled by the city manager.
4. Introduced an ordinance to provide underground utilities in commercial areas on Miller Avenue between Reed Street and Fern Avenue and in Lytton Square within 10 years.
5. Approved warrants totaling $215,363.

Landscaping Proposed For Hub Parking Lot

The San Anselmo Parks and Recreation Commission maintained a compromise policy last night on whether the site of the former Greyhound bus station should become a park or a parking lot.

Commissioners agreed that the proposed parking lot could be developed with a "park-like atmosphere."

"We take the middle of the road," said Walter J. Anderson, commission secretary. "We will recommend that landscaping be put in."

The question of site development was discussed by the parks commission with representatives of the San Anselmo Planning Commission, San Anselmo Homes Assn. and the Downtown Parking Committee.

In urging a park, William Clark of the homes association, said the city would gain "from the enhanced appearance of the city's front yard and the solid business benefits to be derived from a pleasant place to shop."

The former Greyhound site is a triangle bordered roughly by Center Boulevard, San Anselmo Avenue and Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

Mozart Kaufman, chairman of the parking district, said the site is vital to the proposed district because it is the only one on the east side of San Anselmo Avenue. "Without that piece we lose people on the east side of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and reduce the size of the district too much," he said. "Besides, the city owns quite a bit of it and eventually the city would turn it into a parking lot."

Kaufman said that although initial parking district plans do not show beautification, this "does not mean that there won't be beautification."

The recreation commission suggested the homes association work with the parking district group to beautify the lot.

Ronald R. Hill, chairman of the planning commission, said he could not see development of a park at the intersection, but recommended extensive landscaping for screening.

Clark contended that if the parking lot is allowed, land owners would extend their buildings across Corte Madera Creek to the parking lot boundaries and the creek "would be lost." He recommended that the entire area including some of the west bank of Corte Madera Creek be made into a park.

Library Area Is Proposed For Novato

Formation of a county service district to build a branch library building in Novato was proposed last night by the Novato Junior Chamber of Commerce Library Committee to the city's parks and recreation commission.

Jerrold Moore, committee chairman, proposed the district to include the area of the North Marin Water District, which extends beyond the city limits.

However, a motion by commissioner Alton Lerch that the commission recommend formation of such a district died for lack of a second.

Commission Chairman Gordon Tandy said there is some question of whether the library comes under the "jurisdiction of the commission."

The library actually is a branch of the Marin County Library, which already constitutes a taxing district with its own rate levied by the county board of supervisors — exactly as is done with county service districts.

17 Packages Of Dangerous Drug Found

Seventeen packages of atropine, a dangerous drug, were found washed up on Stinson Beach yesterday, Marin sheriff's deputies reported.

Robert G. Carlson, superintendent of Stinson Beach State Park, said an unidentified man found the small cardboard packages. Each one contained four "syrettes" of the drug, used for self-injection to relieve spasms from gas poisoning or heart trouble.

The packages were issued by E. R. Squibb Co. for use by Army personnel in case of nerve gas attacks and apparently were once aboard a military vessel, Chief Inspector Ellis Siebert said. Some of them were filled with sand, but the drug may still be potent.

Carlson said other packages may be found on the beach. He warned schoolchildren in the Stinson Beach-Bolinas area today that if any more are discovered they should be turned over at once to a park ranger or deputy.

Sgt. George R. Burns said atropine is similar to belladonna and may be used as a narcotic. In some cases it could be lethal, he said.

Drainage Petitions Circulate

Petitions were being circulated in downtown Tiburon today toward formation of a drainage assessment district, according to Robert Sterling, secretary of the Tiburon Sanitary District board.

The district would include Northwestern Pocific Railroad property, Cove Road residences, the Tiburon Peninsula Club, and Fred G. Zelinsky and Louis O. Britt properties.

Petition signatures must be obtained from 51 per cent of landowners representing 65 per cent of the proposed district area. Britt and railroad representatives were present at a board meeting last night, but no one appeared from Cove Road or the Tiburon club.

The board was notified of formation Saturday of a flood control zone in the lowland areas of Tiburon and Belvedere by Marin County Local Agency Formation Commission.

The board tabled a request by Sea Firth residents to take over maintenance of their small sanitary plant until it learns if Sea Firth can connect with a new plant planned for Paradise Estates.

Tam High Board Appoints Evening, Summer Principal

The Tamalpais Union High School district board last night approved James A. Fitzgerald, Tamalpais High School Latin teacher and counselor, as evening and summer school principal.

Fitzgerald, 29, of 490 Miller Creek Road, Marinwood, will replace Harry G. Russell, who will retire Aug. 31. Fitzgerald will also serve as central data processing coordinator.

A graduate of St. Patrick's Seminary in San Francisco, Fitzgerald got his master's degree from San Francisco State College in 1961. He came to Tamalpais High School in 1957.

The board also approved purchase of the first parcel of land for a high school site on the Tiburon peninsula. The district will pay $384 for a few square feet of land behind Belvedere Gardens.

The Tamalpais Union High School District board also:

1. Appointed James Pierce, district English supervisor and Redwood High School teacher, to the position of district coordinator of curriculum.
2. Appointed Albert L. Lavin, English department chairman at Sir Francis Drake High School, to the position of district Engish supervisor.
3. Approved expenditure of $175,125 for purchase of a portion of the Ottolini Ranch for a high school site in the San Geronimo Valley.

Burglary Trial Jury Selected

A jury of nine men and three women was selected at noon today for the Marin Superior Court trial of Lemuel Leon Knowles, charged with burglary.

The trial is before Judge Richard M. Sims Jr.

County Housing Authority Elects

Omar E. McNally and Alton Lerch were elected chairman and vice chairman, respectively, yesterday of the Marin County Housing Authority commission.

Lerch was elected chairman and McNally vice chairman of the Marin County Redevelopment Agency commission.

All are re-elections to jobs the commissioners held except that McNally was elected to the redvelopment agency job in place of Harold Stockstad, former vice chairman.

Former Stinson Doctor Sues I-J, Tam Valley Contractor

Dr. Harvey R. Forester, who closed his Stinson Beach office last year because of alleged "deadbeats" in the area, filed a $65,000 libel suit today against the Independent-Journal and Tamalpais Valley contractor Harry H. Johnson.

Statements by Johnson, published in an I-J news story Jan. 17, 1963, that Dr. Forester was a deadbeat himself, were "done maliciously," according to the suit, filed in Marin Superior Court.

The physician closed his office in Stinson Beach in December, 1962, and posted on the door names of 25 people who owed him money. He described them as deadbeats and said he was leaving the area.

Johnson, operator of Marin Home Investments at 200 Shoreline Highway, said Dr. Forester moved away from Tamalpais Valley owing $460 rent on an apartment at 402 Pine Street.

The doctor's suit asks $35,000 damages from Johnson and the I-J and an additional $25,000 from Johnson.

Larkspur Construction Site Arson Attempt

A new home under construction by Edward W. Burgar Inc. of San Rafael at Orange and Hazel avenues in Larkspur was the scene of an arson attempt over the weekend, Larkspur police reported today.

Police, alerted by the fire department, arrived at the house at 5 p.m. Sunday to find burned papers and scorched wood in a corner of a partially completed bathroom.

Not All This Store's Spirits In Bottles

LOCKPORT, N. Y. (AP) — A liquor store proprietor who gets more than his share of women's trade was asked how he does it.

"It's all very simple," he replied. "Whenever a new woman customer comes in, I demand proof that she is 18 years old."

Three Larkspur Homes Broken Into, Ransacked

Three Larkspur homes were broken into over the weekend and ransacked, but only $60 was taken, Larkspur police reported today.

Emily Hughes of 4 Garden Way told police that entry was made into her home through an open kitchen window between 7:30 and 8:30 p.m. Friday. The home was ransacked but nothing was stolen.

Next door at 6 Garden Way, Olga Foros returned home at 10:50 p.m. Friday to find her house ransacked. Taken from a dresser drawer in the master bedroom was $35.

She said she locked all the doors when she left home earlier in the evening. Police could find no pry mark on the doors or windows.

Nina Estelle Ruffner of 33 Wiltshire Avenue reported at 4:45 a.m. Sunday that her home had been ransacked, a bottle of vermouth emptied and $25 taken from a purse.

Entry was made into her home through an unlocked bedroom window.

State Set To Open Highway Work Bids

Bids for constructing various types of median barrier on five and one-half miles of Highway 101 between Corte Madera Creek in Larkspur and a point four-tenths of a mile south of the Waldo Undercrossing will be opened in Sacramento Feb. 13 by the State Division of Highways.

A total of $231,000 in state highway funds is available for the project.

Buggies Could Ford

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A memorable low water year on the Ohio River was experienced in 1861. At Cairo, Ill., the water was only three feet deep. Horses pulled buggies across the river at Madison, Ind., near Louisville.

Courthouse Low Bidder Announced

The Neil T. Burton Co. of Kentfield was lowest of five bidders today on proposed remodeling of the second floor of the county courthouse to provide more room for municipal court clerks. The bid was $13,535.

Bids ranged as high as $20,907 for the job. Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell said that $15,000 was provided in the budget for the job, and that $2,000 could be diverted from another project if needed.

At the time of calling for bids in December, Public Works Director Donald R. Frost promised the work, which will include tearing out two large interior walls, has been scheduled in such a way that courts would not be disturbed.

Plans call for closing one of the two stairways at the entrance to the building and eliminating much of the hall space at the south end of the second floor.

Farm Lead Bigger

WASHINGTON (AP)—Farmers are outpacing industry in efficiency. On the farm, the gain in output per man-hour for agriculture was more than double the figure for industry. From 1950 to 1960, farmers gained 5.1 per cent in labor efficiency, while non-farm workers gained 2.2 per cent.

Marin City Rec Plan Is Adopted

Directors of the Marin City Community Services District last night adopted a proposed plan for recreation and rehabilitation for 1964-65 and agreed that the next step is to work with county agencies to try to put the plan into being.

Money is to be sought from the board of supervisors, said John A. Thomson, secretary.

Thomson said rehabilitation refers to activities including children's organizations, counselling, and those for senior citizens.

Next board meeting has been changed from Jan. 16 to Jan 23 because of a conflict in meeting dates for the directors.

Median Hedges Might Lick A Big Hazard Of 101

Reduction of glare of oncoming headlights on Freeway 101 between the north foot of Waldo Grade and Corte Madera Creek is to be sought by a grillwork-fiberglass panel combination erected in the median strip.

The State Division of Highways plans this project at $231,000 cost in an effort to reduce automobile accidents on 5.5 miles of unbarricaded highway where head-on crashes have cost many lives and more injuries.

There's nothing too wrong with the proposal save that it is no full solution to a most menacing problem, only a rather costly stopgap. Cars cruising only a few feet apart and approaching at a combined speed of 130 miles an hour provide explosive possibilities but we can't recall any major accident in the area which directly traced to dazzle as a cause.

Nor in our own driving can we remember that there was anything intolerable about oncoming headlights on this stretch. It's nothing like as bad as on roads without any divider, certainly.

The best way to prevent freeway head-on accidents involving opposite lines of flying traffic is of course to construct wide separation in the first place. Up over the Waldo Grade this was pretty well achieved with the result that during recent months the only such catastrophe was a freak affair in which a southbound car scraped a curb, bounced around and finally fell over the bank to land on top of another car emerging from the Waldo Tunnel northbound.

Even this unusual tragedy illustrates what we consider a main point, that if the two directions of traffic can't be built apart the only other effective thing to do is build some sort of strong physical barrier between. A mere light-shield certainly is far from good enough and it can have utility only at night in any event.

Some years ago there was a good deal of exploration of inexpensive physical dividers in the eastern United States. The results were interesting.

These experiments showed that it isn't necessary to build solid walls and fences. In fact these have some dangerous disadvantages.

Shrubbery is a promising solution directly keyed to Marin County conditions, and in fact already tried at some Marin points such as the upper part of the Waldo Grade plus a little discouraged-looking hedge planting farther north along Highway 101.

Experiments elsewhere have favored Russian olive, a most successful barricade in some parts of the country. Oleander is used as an inexpensive and attractive median light-shield in some parts of California but probably it wouldn't stop cars as the Russian olive does.

Vehicles driven against well-established Russian olive barriers have in some cases been brought to a halt, or at least drastically reduced in speed without damage or much hazard to occupants. Angles and speeds must be considered, of course, but the idea has been proved sound. Some experiment here as to plant types, and the needs as to thickness and perhaps double or triple barriers, should be attempted.

Such botanical barriers would as a side dividend attend nicely to the nighttime function of light-shielding, for which taxpayers are about to spend $231,000 over a distance of five and one-half miles.

The January Bill Blues

There is no doubt about it. Many of us go overboard on Christmas spending. Then we repent at leisure in January.

The January bills are depressing.

But cheer up! You'll be paid up before income tax time. If you're lucky, that is.

Erosion Of Johnson's Southern Popularity Due Any Day

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press International

THE EROSION of President Lyndon B. Johnson's Southern states political base could begin any day now, and probably will.

Political realists were convinced that the late President John F. Kennedy had lost the South or most of it. That was the basis of the Goldwater for president boom.

Goldwater strategists figured their man could carry the Southern states against Kennedy. Hence, he would not need to carry such states as New York, Pennsylvania and other big ones where Kennedy seemed to be invulnerable.

GOLDWATER was the only Republican who seemed to have a real chance to sweep the South. The Goldwater boom went on from there.

Now the political realists believe that President Johnson will do much better in the South than Kennedy had been expected to do. Hence, the Goldwater boom diminished.

Perhaps Johnsons is sufficiently southern to be weak in such big states as New York and Pennsylvania. If so, Republican strategy might be shifted toward a nominee who would do well in such areas with their big minority racial votes.

ALL OF THIS, of course, is merely fancy speculation. But the chips go down this week as President Johnson addresses himself to Congress. He has said he is committed all-out to the enactment of the civil rights legislation inherited from the Kennedy administration.

President Johnson will not be making southern white friends for himself when he presses Congress to enact civil rights.

It is possible that the South may appear to be less sure for Johnson and more receptive to a Goldwater after the Senate filibuster against civil rights.

MANY GOLDWATER srategists insisted that it was not his civil rights position that attracted white southerners to their man.

It was his over-all conservatism, they argued, and especially, his balance-the-budget conservatism in fiscal affairs.

If that is, in fact, the situation, then President Johnson's first federal budget which goes to Congress this month may make some southern Democrats unhappy.

IT IS generally known that Johnson has revamped the budget. Bits and pieces of the program have leaked, enough to indicate that there will be there record breaking spending in Johnson's first fiscal year.

Moreover, the money saved by the administration in well advertised economies is not to be saved but is to be spent for other projects.

Some erosion of Johnson's political base probably is inevitable. It could be great enough to change the face of presidential politics.

Marin's Land Could Take Tax Load

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Recent editorials have complained of Marin's "disproportionate school tax burden" and pleaded for a shift from property tax to state income tax and sales tax.

A major source of confusion regarding local tax inequity stems from the lumping together of land tax and improvement tax.

That portion of the local tax which bears on houses, factories and stores is indeed burdensome and already "maximum."

The tax on the land itself, however, can properly bear a larger share of education costs. An increase in the latter fraction would reduce land speculation, lower inflated land prices, and strengthen the healthy principle of "local funds for local use."

It would actually lessen the property tax burden on "Mr. Average Home Owner," whose "improvement" value is almost always many times his "land" value.

It seems absurd for Marin County to plead that some of its legitimate expenses be paid out of state income tax funds. This device could more rationally be the cry of a "poor county" for "equalization."

Our unused and under-used land has hardly begun to repay the community whose population expansion (including school children) created these inflated and undertaxed land values in the first place.

Cluster Housing May Save Marin's Beauty

Editor, Independent-Journal:

. . . Cluster housing has been common in Europe for centuries. Indeed it has been their only way to save any valuable free lands.

Don't we all marvel when we first visit and find dense England and France with woods and forests as beautiful as anything we have? A superficial study will show that cluster housing has been the major means of protecting nature in Europe. Aren't there too many obvious failures with continuous houses on irregular sites as exampled in that abortive stepped development seen behind the Koch factory when driving South on Highway 101?

Cluster housing guarantees woods and natural land. Instead of continuously and monotonously giving a house every 100 feet along the street, we see a group of houses close together with an open woods protected from development beyond. Cluster housing allows a wider variety of forms and heights, giving us more beauty.

We only need look at Peacock Gap to see how pleasant this type of development can be. If we are to protect our green valleys and many oaks we argue with intelligence.

Marin County must protect its unique and valuable beauty. We have seen too many instances of the developer, with his own concept of popular tastelessness, destroying a once beautiful area.

Who Does Jean Varda Think He Is, Anyway?

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Hutchinson, in his "History of the Arts," speaks of Rafaelle Pompini as a "great benefactor of the arts, a veritable saint, whom those dependent on him called Saint Rafaelle, to show their gratitude."

There is a connection, not only because of the curious relation of this valuable man to the name of your city, but because of a letter by Jean Varda, artist, recently published in your paper.

Mr. Varda is known as an independent artist, who has worked himself up from the ranks to where he now enjoys a moderate income from his painting, drives large American cars, and entertains guests in some measure of opulence. He disdainfully refers to his contemporaries as "sepulchral." Hutchison quotes Saint Rafaelle, the benefactor, a man of apparently great insight, as saying: "Death is the sophistication of life." Perhaps Mr. Varda would do well to ponder this for a while. 1964 is sophisticated. The sophistication of America, already resplendent wtih triple-overkill and Telstar programs, will not stop before Mr. Varda's visions of "Charm, beauty, suavity and seduction."

Mr. Varda's criticism of curators in general and George Culler in particular is absurd in the extreme, that is to say, extremely absurd. I know George personally. He is not a fanatic. On the contrary, he might be described as cool and analytical. The art of analysis is evidently meaningless to Mr. Varda, as I suspect is the art of archery, of painting, composing and other arts.

It seems that Mr. Varda is preoccupied rather with decomposition, "Vermin and squalor, confusion and horror, stench and puterfaction."

Let me say that publishing Mr. Varda's note to you is not a particularly graceful act, though I have, after much thought, decided to renew my subscription.

Who on earth does Mr. Varda think he is, anyway?

An interesting glimpse of some publisher-author relationships is provided by this summary an embittered author delivered at a recent literary conclave: "My publisher is as broke as the Ten Commandments, so conceited that he does crossword puzzles with an indelible pencil, and so crooked that every time I shake hands with him I count my fingers."

At a university that prides itself on attracting students from every corner of the world, five turbaned youths presented themselves in a body at the dean's office and bowed silently in unison. "Haven't you a spokesman?" asked the perplexed dean. "Don't any of you talk English?"

At this, one youth detached himself from the group, smiled warmly, and assured the dean, "I do, Dear Sir or Madam, as the case may be."

If California Budget Goes Up Nobody Should Be Amazed

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—As the time approaches for the legislative budget session of 1964, speculation centers on the amount California taxpayers will be required to pay during 1964-65 fiscal year to operate state government.

The current budget is approximately 3.3 billion dollars If past history is any criterion, and it probably will be, next fiscal year will see 3.5 billion dollars demanded from the taxpayers to operate the many-faceted functions of California and the local governments which benefit from all kinds of subventions.

The prospective increase is not unusual. This has been going on for a good many years. Also, expenditures have been increasing at a percentage rate much higher than the percentage of increase in the population.

WHETHER BUDGET increases should be geared to population increases, percentagewise, always has been a moot question wtih the state's financiers.

Fact of the matter is, in all but a few years of state operation, they haven't, and are not likely to be in the future.

Several factors tend to discourage this relationship, among them being the fact that the "demand" on state government, as described by the politicians, continues to grow faster than the ability of the population to pay the bill.

FUNDAMENTALLY a budget is unsound, either a personal budget, a state budget, or a national budget, if it contemplates spending more money than can be anticipated in income.

There are of course times when a budget must be neglected to meet an emergency, and more money spent than is obtained in taxes. Or in salary in the case of the personal budget.

These emergencies are met by borrowing, but not beyond the limits of capacity to pay.

FOR THE PAST several years, California has been borrowing by bond issue to make up differences in state income and state expenditures. Interest on bond issues makes the borrowed money cost the state's taxpayers just about double what they would have to pay if they used cash to meet obligations.

Thus a $300 million bond issue eventually will cost around 600 million dollars.

For an emergency, such an expenditure may be necessary at times. But when an emergency ceases to be an emergency, and becomes a regular occurrence, then the expenditure becomes fixed and it appears to be no longer sensible to treat the outgo as an emergency.

YET THIS is what the administration is doing in California. Probably two bond issues, totaling 300 million dollars, will be on the special session agenda, to provide funds for state construction, and school construction.

These expenditures have become outlays of consistent regularity, and instead of working out ways and means to meet the demand on a regular basis, the administration is borrowing against future tax money at a cost of about double to the people who pay the bills.

Eventually, people who borrow more than they can repay go bankrupt. Can a state?

THE ALLEN-SCOTT REPORT

Johnson Is Chary, As Was Kennedy, Over Cuba Action

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — The Johnson administration is just as sharply split as its predecessor over cracking down on Fidel Castro's widespread subversive machinations in the Caribbean.

The Kennedy administration could never make up its mind about taking forceful measures against these pernicious Communist operations. Now its successor appears equally chary.

Whether that review of Cuban policy ordered by President Lyndon B. Johnson leads to anything is a toss-up. So far, the backstage indications are not promising.

A KEY REASON for this is the State Department's apparent domination of the study. Unannounced guidelines have been laid down by Secretary Dean Rusk which definitely favor the department's viewpoint in this protracted backstage controversy.

The State Department is very much opposed to any course savoring of the use of force against the bearded Red-puppet dictator.

The department's position, strongly supported by holdover Kennedy foreign affairs advisers in the White House, can be summed up as follows:

IN THE Organization of American States, the U. S. to press for additional economic and diplomatic sanctions against the Castro dictatorship.

At the same time, the U.S. to "hold out a carrot" in the form of an offer to restore the Cuban Communist ruler to OAS membership if he halts arms shipments and subversion in the Caribbean, and "cuts back" his ties with the Soviet.

This so-called "carrot and stick" policy is vigorously challenged as "unrealistic" and "futile" by a group that includes the Joint Chiefs of Staff and Central Intelligence Director John McCone.

IT IS their emphatic contention that Castro's persistent subversive activities can be blocked only by decisive military and diplomatic measures.

In the opinion of these military and intelligence leaders, the U.S. should take the following three assertive steps to block Castro:

(1) Seek the authorization and cooperation of the Organization of American States for an expanded air and naval blockade of the Caribbean; (2) offer Caribbean and other Latin American countries the aid of U.S. planes and naval vessels to intercept Red arms shipments; (3) increase and intensify the surveillance of all outbound Cuban shipping.

ALSO ADVOCATED by the group is economic and military assistance to Cuban refugees waging war against Castro from Caribbean bases. They are urgently in need of weapons and other support to build up effective pockets of resistance in Cuba.

The Kennedy administration steadfastly opposed such anti-Castro measures. The State Department wants that policy continued, and so far is having its way.

Thomas Mann, newly-named assistant secretary of state for Latin America, is authoritatively credited with holding the same view.

HE IS UNDERSTOOD to have advised President Johnson to make no decision on Cuba until after conferring with President Adolfo Lopez Mateos in late February in Los Angeles.

The Mexican leader is known to agree with Secretary Rusk on Cuba.

The significant guide-lines drawn up by Rusk for the Cuban policy review indicate a belief that Castro can be wooed away from the Kremlin.

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

Supervisor Vera Schultz demanded investigation of action by county clerk George S. Jones in writing his congratulations to federal housing officials for denying the county's application for Marin City.

County supervisors told county clerk George Jones to clarify by new letters that he'd expressed only his personal views in recent letters congratulating the federal authorities on refusing to let Marin County have Marin City.

20 YEARS AGO

San Rafael residents plus a large committee from the San Rafael High School student body found it impossible to reach a conclusion as to the proper site for a proposed teen-age club.

A war bond radio broadcast suggested that nylon stockings could be used to acquire savings bonds, so Mr. and Mrs. Toby Pechner of San Anselmo dug out a forgotten hoarded pair — and told the newspapers.

Sausalito's Big Dip Is Gone, But There's Whisky Hump

THE BIG DIP off Sausalito's Bridgeway into Gate Three Road is closed off with the opening of the new section of Harbor Drive near the new shopping center.

We hate to see the landmarks go, but there is still the "whisky hump" on Gate Five Road where the road goes over the pipe taking extra waters from American Distilling Co. into the bay.

Dr. Margaret Grew proved that Mill Valley had not seen everything the other night at a planning commission meeting when she nonchalantly used tiny opera glasses to view the distant maps being discussed on the bulletin board behind the commissioners.

LOCKED OUT of her house, as were her children, Mrs. Rodric Robinson called the fire department for help. Chief Nook Armager arrived quickly and began getting his tools ready.

Then Mrs. Robinson got the idea that Casey, the collie mix, might also help and encouraged him to jump up upon the glass door. He did and on the down jump, released the latch.

The children were delighted. So was Casey. Nook was stumped.

THERE SEEM to be more and more cars in these parts with surfboards on top and more and more youngsters with skateboards under their feet.

"We see the surfboarders sometimes at 6:30 a.m.," said Harriet Greene of Stinson Beach. "There are hordes of them."

Kenny Shockey, also of Stinson, says if there is a storm "outside" it will bring in big waves and by big he means six to eight feet tall. The water temperature, about the same the year around, does not bother him.

KIRK SPARKS of Strawberry explained that he is learning to surf, that the boards are nine feet long, and "if you're about to fall you either dive or hold onto the board so it won't come down and hit you on the head."

Asked about the bottom, he said "it's sandy at Stinson."

We asked Steven Daniels how the skateboards work, and he explained they are 12 inches long, have skate wheels underneath, and the trick is in the balance.

"YOU PUT your right foot in front of the left foot," he said. "Don't put your feet straight.

"Let your heels rest over the side. Then go. You can do spins with it."

We explained we had tried one of these boards and that it went wild.

Steve said, "If you start to fall from a skateboard, you just jump off. The board is smooth," he said.

He did admit that one day he was going down the sidewalk, hit a hole and then ended up doing three flips.

THERE IS a time to be sad and a time to be glad. One of the latter times was at the Bolinas School children's Broadway musical, "Scenes From Oklahoma!" the other night.

This play makes you proud to be an American. It was performed by youngsters with the real Broadway twang to their voices.

The audience was spirited and as alive as the players.

Bureaucracy Sometimes Inevitable

SANTA BARBARA (UPI) — A University of California professor here says "bureaucracy is inevitable" but there are two extremes.

Dr. Donald R. Cressy, professor of sociology, says an example of one is the old-fashioned custodial prison with "a rule for everything—a rule for whistling, running, sleeping and eating. Everything a prisoner or guard does in a prison bay is either in conformity to or in violation of some rule."

But at the other extreme, he says, traditional bureaucracy has "established norms of equal treatment and has helped reduce the arbitrary use of power."

"Unfortunately," he said, "traditional bureaucracy is incapable of rewarding excellence.

"The highest tribute it can pay to an employee is recognition that he has not violated the rules — or too many of them."

10 Judges Quit In Year After Complaints Filed

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—The California commission on judicial qualifications said it considered 114 complaints about judges during 1963 and, in 10 cases, the charges were sufficiently well founded to result in resignations of the judges involved.

The commission said most of the complaints "were clearly unfounded, in no way an adverse reflection on the judge, and were closed with no action other than to write the complainant that the commission had no jurisdiction."

Forty out of the 114 complaints resulted in some inquiry, involving 13 superior judges, 11 municipal judges and 16 justice court judges. Of the 10 judges who resigned, five were from justice courts, four from municipal courts and one from a superior court.

Union Had Two Generals Grant

The Federal Army during the Civil War had two Generals Grant.

Besides the famous U.S. Grant, there was Bvt. Maj. Gen. Lewis Addison Grant, a Vermont school teacher in private life. Gen. Lewis Grant won the Medal of Honor for gallantry at the battle of Salem Heights, Va., in 1863 when he led his troops over the enemy's breastworks and captured three battleflags.

He was wounded three times. In 1890 he became assistant secretary of war.

Part of the time during the campaign around Shiloh Gen. U. S. Grant rode a black pony called Jeff Davis because it had been "liberated" from the plantation of the Confederacy's president's brother.

The boysenberry was first placed on the commercial market in 1935.

A Deep Peer Into 1964 Crystal Ball Discloses Some Surprises

NEW YORK (AP)—What's in store for us in 1964?

A deep peer into our clouded crystal ball shows we can look forward to the mixture as before — but with some surprises.

On the international front, it seems safe to predict, Soviet Premier Khrushchev will find at least 700 million reasons to grasp the Western world in an ever more cordial embrace — and all the reasons are Chinese.

IN WASHINGTON, as a result of stringent belt-tightening by the Democrats in their new federal economy program, the government will announce it has used 1,364,283,195 fewer paper clips than during any year of the Dwight D. Eisenhower administration.

Republicans will counter with an accusation that a number of employees of the U. S. Department of Agriculture have been secretly taking home government-bought pencils and letting their children use them to do their home work.

Both political parties will call vigorously for a reduction in taxes.

AND 99 MILLION taxpayers will give a big fat yawn.

They know that if one level of government takes less from their pocketbooks, another level of government will take more.

In an unexpected goodwill gesture, the taxicab drivers of Paris will raise a fund to build a monument to the American tourist. As a matter of national pride, however, the statue turned out by the sculptor will closely resemble President Charles de Gaulle.

A MORE inexpensive way of handling the nation's grain surplus will be found. It will be stored in government-built bomb shelters.

In case of an emergency, the citizen will merely shovel out the grain, or crawl in and pull it over his head.

In medicine the big news will be the discovery of two more sure cures for the common cold. After trying them both, the average man will find the only sure thing about them is that they sure don't work.

AS A RESULT of continued automation, more people will be working less — and enjoying it less, too.

But business will be generally on the upgrade, and the competition for the big buck will go on unchecked.

All in all, 1964 promises to be a zany, wonderful year, and life will remain what it has always been — the only thing worth living. Be sure to do your share of it.

When you find yourself in a tight spot remember one thing: Perhaps nobody else knows you're in trouble.

You may escape if you make the right move with an air of calm confidence.

Put yourself in the West seat, defending against four spades.

You lead a low heart, and your partner is allowed to win the first trick with the king. He returns the jack of hearts to dummy's ace.

ONE ROUND

Declarer draws one round of trumps, then leads a diamond to dummy's ace and ruffs a diamond in his hand.

Finally he leads the 10 of hearts to your queen.

And there you are, in a very tight spot. If you lead hearts or diamonds, dummy can ruff while South gets rid of a club. And if you lead a club, declarer can win trick with his own king as well as dummy's queen.

LOOKS AHEAD

If you have been looking ahead, you have seen this situation coming. You know that you are a dead duck if you try to get out with the ace of clubs or with a low club.

You have a chance if you lead the jack of clubs with the right innocent air.

The idea is to persuade declarer that you have led from J-10-x or J-10-x-x of clubs.

LITTLE SWINDLE

If South falls for this quite reasonable little swindle, he will let the jack of clubs ride around to the king and will then return a club to finesse with dummy's nine.

This would be right if you held the ten of clubs in the West position.

As it happens, East wins with the ten of clubs and returns a club to your ace. This defeats the contract.

Be on the lookout for an unusual return when an opponent catches you in an end-play. A play that would be foolish in ordinary circumstances may be your only chance when you are trapped.

HOLLIS, MEMBERS SPLIT ON FUNDS

School Head, Board Debate Chances For Legislature Passing Countywide Tax Plan

County school Supt. Virgil S. Hollis and several members of the Marin County Board of Education disagreed last night on how best to go about geting more state support for school needs, especially for junior colleges.

The debate arose during the regular meeting of the county board in the Civic Center.

Adele J. Alpers, chairman of the board's legislative committee, reported the State Board of Education will push this year for a countywide tax, similar to that which failed last year in the state legislature.

In brief, this would provide for a countywide levy of 60 cents per $100 assessed value for elementary school support and 50 cents for high schools. The $1.10 thus collected would then be distributed to the various school districts in the county on the basis of the number of students. The net effect would be that wealthy districts would pay out more and get less in the re-distribution, and the poor districts would get more in return.

Mrs. Alpers said the countywide school tax equalization proposal seems to be the best answer at the moment. However, she does not know whether this will be one of the items which the governor will take up in the special session of the legislature this year.

But Hollis disagreed. He said he sees no chance that the countywide school tax measure will pass the State Senate.

"I feel strongly that we are completely missing the boat in not going to the people for additional money," said Hollis. "We need about 300 million dollars in new funds, and the only way is with an initiative measure presented to the people."

Hollis reported that in the State Senate last year, 10 were in favor of the counutywide tax and 29 were violently opposed.

Hollis hammered away at this point: 40,000 to 50,000 students will be diverted from state universities to junior colleges, and local taxpayers will have to bear all the burden of new buildings.

He asked the county board to take a stand in favor of an initiative measure to place on the November ballot. "I'd be happy to write a resolution for such an initiative," he offered.

"Will you also include why you think the job of legislation should be removed from the legislators and given to the people?" asked board member Robert G. Randolph. "If that's the case, the legislators should be voted out."

"I think we should be either for it (the countywide tax) or against it or stop talking about it," said James A. Carroll.

After a few more minutes of argument, the board members stopped talking about it and went on to the next item on the agenda.

Marindale School Bids To Be Opened

Bids will be opened Feb. 3 on construction of the final addition to Marindale School in Terra Linda.

Marin County Board of Education last night called for bids on the addition, estimated to cost $65,000. It will include special classrooms for the handicapped and offices and storage areas.

Dale Stancliff, representing architects Reid and Tarics, reported the working drawings were approved by the State Division of Archeticts.

The county school board members voted support for an "Experiments in Public Education" conference to be held in Reed School District Jan. 20 through 24. Reed School Supt. Edward C. Pino reported one item of discussion will be the novel design used for the new Granada School, which will be built across the street from Larkspur District's San Clemente School.

Asst. County Supt. Edward R. Credell reported that teachers' institutes will be held on Jan. 24 and 31. A teacher evaluation conference is set for 9:30 a.m. to noon this Saturday at Redwood High School.

The Marin County Board of Education also:

1. Accepted the resignation of accountant Gus Orlando, who has been offered a position as assistant business manager at College of Marin.
2. Acknowledged donation of $4,200 from United Cerebral Palsy of Marin Inc., and $50 from Temple of the Golden Gate, Royal Order of Caritas.
3. Accepted donation of a playhouse at 71 Vendola Drive for mentally retarded children. Marin Civic Center Lions Club offered to build and donate the playhouse. Another playhouse, at 28 Washington Street, will be investigated to see if it is usable. This is a used playhouse, which is offered by Marin Aid to Retarded Children.
4. Accepted a procedure for purchasing school supplies and equipment, outlined by George Emmons, director of business services.
5. Recommended to the county supervisors that payment of $10 per meeting be approved for the county superintendent of schools, as authorized by the Education Code. The superintendent and members of the Board of Education have been getting $10 per meeting. However, the authority to pay the superintendent was never formally approved. Supt. Virgil S. Hollis asked for supervisor action to comply with the law and protect all concerned.

Corte Madera Lets Contract For Tamalpais Drive Work

Corte Madera's town council last night awarded the contract for construction of a two-block widening strip on Tamalpais Drive to Brown-Ely Co. of San Rafael for $5,911.20.

Work on the project, the south portion of the street west of Madera Boulevard, will start in 10 days.

Other bidders were Ghilotti Brothers, San Rafael, $6,297; E. A. Forde Co., San Anselmo, $6,527.20; Piombo Brothers, San Rafael, $7,886.56; Ceccotti and Son, Corte Madera, $6,818.96; O. C. Jones and Son, Berkeley, $6,573, and W. K. McLellan Co., San Anselmo, $7,621.40.

Council also authorized Mayor Edward W. Colthurst to sign an urban thoroughfare agreement with Marin County consenting to expenditure by the county of $59,650 in unallocated funds for emergency road construction needs on the Tiburon Peninsula.

The Corte Madera Town Council also:

1. Adopted a resolution of intent for a retirement program for town employees. Membership would be compulsory for all employees, effective April 1. An election will be scheduled for approval of employees to enter into contract with the State Employees' Retirement System.
2. Approved installation of four street lights on Constitution Street, Mariner Highlands.
3. Appointed the San Mateo law firm of Wilson, Harzfeld, Jones and Morton to prepare a legal report and documents for a proposed $180,000 bond issue April 14 for a town public safety building.
4. Approved a final map of a one-acre Russell-Jones resubdivision proposed for Paradise Drive at Harbor Drive.
5. Authorized the mayor to sign agreement with Marin to permit the latter to collect directly from residents for county septic tank service.
6. Granted a grading and drainage permit to Holtzinger Brothers, San Rafael, in a debris fill-in project east of Northwestern Pacific Railroad near Corte Madera Creek.
7. Passed an ordinance of intention to abandon Loyola Way, which runs into the Granada School site, to permit errection of school buildings.
8. Accepted the resignation of Councilman Robert LaDow for health reasons. His term expires in April. Councilman Albert E. Kogler was named to replace LaDow on the Marin Mosquito Abatement District Board.

Planner To Try Again For Pimentel Cluster Housing

County Planning Commissioner Felix M. Warburg yesterday said he would make a new try to have cluster housing included in the master plan for the Pimental Ranch west of Novato.

The Marin County Board of Supervisors had overruled the commission, calling for elimination of apartments, a commercial area and the cluster houses from the 250-acre development. The board's stand backed that of the Novato Planning Commission.

Warburg said he was happy the apartments and shopping center would be cut out, but on cluster housing, "the board, I feel, quite clearly did not understand what it was voting on. I feel the type of housing should be left open as long as it stays within the range of 10,000 square foot lot total density."

Commissioner William F. Upton asked that the question be held over to Jan. 20 to give the staff a chance to make a formal presentation. The motion carried.

The commission approved, 5-0, a plan for development of a housing project in the Tennessee Valley on a steep hillside on quarter-acre lots. Planning Director B. D. Dobbs and developers' representative A. L. Friberg admitted the project was an experiment on the economics of small lots without extensive grading.

The commission ordered the developer, Goheen Enterprises, to do more engineering on the entrance to the subdivision, which consists mainly in a long road with a loop at one end.

Principal Planner Rowland Darnell recommended that the street be only 28 feet wide, to cut down on hillside scarring, and that the loop, where traffic will be one-way, be only 18 feet wide.

The Marin County Planning Commission also:

1. Tentatively set Feb. 5 or Feb. 19 for a meeting with the county parks and recreation commission.
2. Approved a tentative map of the nine-acre subdivision of Marinwood Country Estates at Las Gallinas Avenue and Lucas Valley Road, Marinwood.
3. Approved placing a new sign on the Shoreline Highway directing traffic to the Muir Beach resort.
4. Denied a free-standing sign on Manuel T. Freitas Parkway in Terra Linda for St. Isabella's Church.
5. Recommended by 3-2 vote a request by Edwin A. Koehn for an adjustment to build a garage and workshop four feet from the side property line at 6 Gilbert Street, Lomita Park. Commissioners Charles R. Johnson, Felix M. Warburg and Henry C. Hankins voted for the adjustment, with William F. Upton and George Scott against.
6. Denied rezoning of two lots, owned by Betty Dyson and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Cusick from single family to apartment zoning at 7 and 9 Hilliside Avenue, Kentfield.
7. Approved an adjustment allowing conversion of a house into a duplex at 1860 Vistazo West Street, Tiburon, owned by Claire Moore.

Commissioners Niels Schultz Jr. and Edward K. Wachsman were absent.

Painting Of Vehicles Hit

The Marin County Board of Education rebuked the county school superintendent and his staff last night for painting special education vehicles yellow and then trying to get authorization later.

Asst. Supt. Rudolph S. Kupfer reported three vehicles were painted yellow and equipped with flashing lights during Christmas vacation This was done, he said, because the vehicles carry more than seven pupils, and state law requires the painting and flashing lights.

School board member Robert G. Randolph said he realized the change was necessary, but objected to the agenda item "recommending that three of our Econoliners . . . be painted yellow."

"I came in and saw they were already painted. You must be taking me for a fool."

Novato Park, Rec Commissioners Elect Officers

Gordon Tandy was elected chairman and Mrs. Helen Greving, vice chairman of the Novato Parks and recreation advisory commission last night at the first meeting of the year in the community house.

The commission also approved a policy for community house rental, more detailed and with higher rates than the previous one. Commissioner Alton Lerch cast the one dissenting vote, saying "the city is in competition for renting halls and this is too full of red tape."

Edmund G. Mahany, parks and recreation director, reported that winter recreation programs had been started with the schools and several adult organizations.

The commission adopted a revised set of rules for conducting its meetings, main change being that in the absence of both chairman and vice chairman, members of a quorum could select a chairman for that meeting only.

Girl Hurt Riding Bicycle Into Car

Benita Rose, 11, of 5947 Redwood Highway, Ignacio, was treated at Novato General Hospital yesterday for broken front teeth, a cut finger and scrapes on her right knee and face, after she ran her bicycle into the side of a car on the Loma Verde service road at 4:25 p.m.

The car was being driven west by Ralph Matthew Wanderer III, 18, of 297 Casa Grand Real, Hamilton Air Force Base, according to the California Highway Patrol.

Education Board Gets Hollis Report

A 19-page annual report of the Marin County Superintendent of schools was handed to the County Board of Education at its meeting last night.

The report described services given by the county schools office to citizens and to school districts within the county, with a paragraph or two on each item.

The booklet opens with comments by Supt. Virgil S. Hollis asking more participation by citizens and thanking other governmental agencies within the county which have helped the department.

Opening emphasis is given in the report to the special schools, for mentally retarded, deaf, physically handicapped and those in custody at either the juvenile hall or San Quentin Prison, all operated by the county schools office.

Mill Valley Rec, Architectural Appointments

Mrs. William B. Allen and William A. Findeisen were appointed to three-year terms on the Mill Valley Parks and Recreation Commission last night, and Daniel J. Lieberman was appointed to the architectural advisory committee.

Mrs. Allen has completed her first term on the commission. Findeisen, of 41 Longfellow Road, a real estate broker with Hearth and Home Inc. of Mill Valley, succeeds Joseph C. Brewster, who has served two terms on the commission.

The city council appointed Lieberman to the advisory committee after being told it might also choose Lieberman's wife, Mrs. E. M. Lieberman, who is a landscape architect. Lieberman is a designer and land planner residing at 881 Lovell Avenue. He will replace Richard Hiatt, who has been appointed to the planning commission.

DOCTORS BEAT SMOKING HABIT

NEW YORK – The report presented to the 17th annual clinical meeting of the American Medical Association on December 4, 1963 states:

"Lung cancer death rates were 11 times as high among current cigarette smokers as among men who never smoked regularly and 18 times as high among very heavy cigarette smokers as among men who never smoked regularly.

"Lung cancer death rates were considerably lower among ex-cigarette smokers who had given up the habit for several years than among current cigarette smokers."

European and American methods and medications offering smokers release from the tobacco habit have been carefully studied by the Medical Board of the National Council on Smoking and Health and the best features of these methods have been incorporated in a new "tablet and method" program which is effective in helping smokers stop smoking safely and easily within 10 to 15 days.

A complete report on this program has just been released and smokers may have a FREE copy by sending their name and address to the National Council on Smoking and Health, Inc.—Dept. 81-N4 , 225 East 46th Street, New York 17, New York. ADVT.

NCAA Getting Soft? Code Violators Merely Slapped

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Collegiate Athletic Assn. still is cracking the whip, but some of the sting is gone.

"It's not that we're getting soft," Walter Byers, executive director of the NCAA, said today after chiding five institutions for recruiting violations and relaxing sanctions against a sixth. "It's just that the colleges are behaving better—we are having fewer and fewer major abuses."

The University of Iowa and little Centenary College of Shreveport, La., each drew a one year probation. Alabama and Houston were officially reprimanded, and Washington State got off lightest of all — a word of caution.

At the same time, Indiana University, under a four-year probationary penalty, had its sanctions relaxed so that Indiana athletes might compete in events pointing to the 1964 Olympic Games at Tokyo.

Leniency was the mood of the feared NCAA council, sports policy-making body of some 600 colleges and universities, in disclosing punishment for those members who had not adhered strictly to the rules.

Besides Indiana, New Mexico State, Hardin-Simmons, Dayton and Colorado are major universities which have been slapped with sanctions in recent years. Most of these sanctions end this year.

The University of Iowa was found guilty of the largest number of transgressions—enough to fill a full page of typewritten copy.

They included:

1. A football player who held a campus job during summer school and received pay for work he didn't perform. This happened in 1961.

2. A basketball player, holding an off-campus job, received a $75 advance from his employer and then dropped out of school before paying back the money.

3. A group of basketball players visiting the campus were given uniforms and permitted to practice with members of the university team, at times in presence of the coaches.

4. A football player was contacted at another institution without Iowa first contacting the athletic director of the other school.

The council frowned on these acts but said, like a forgiving parent, that they "did not reflect any pattern and disregard for the governing rules of the association."

Centenary was accused of transporting prospective basketball players to the campus and back in a private company airplane in violation of the sanity code.

"It happened more than once," Byers said, but added that the school authorities had been most penitent and cooperative in the investigations.

Houston had it wrist slapped for transporting two football players to the campus in a private plane. This became a violation when the representative failed to accompany the prospects, who wound up not entering the school after all.

Alabama was censured and reprimanded because its coaches contacted a football player who was enrolled at another school without notifying the other school's athletic director.

Alabama officials said it was a matter of misinterpretation of the words "student athlete" since the player in question had not competed at the other school but had entered merely to get proper credits.

Washington State was cautioned for a similar violation involving a track athlete. The punishment was lighter because Washington State reported the violation itself, Byers said.

The day's biggest surprise was the relaxation of sanctions against Indiana.

Under the move, Indiana athletes, previously barred from postseason activity and title events, were given permission to compete in any competition pointing to the Tokyo Olympics.

This opened the door for Indiana's fine squad of swimmers, including several record holders, basketball players, gymnasts and wrestlers.

Indiana is eligible to compete in the NCAA basketball tournament, from which it had been barred.

Giants Feel Pierce Is Finished, But Hope He Proves Them Wrong

Jack Hanley

Billy Pierce, the remarkable southpaw who did wondrous things for the Giants in their 1962 pennant year but began to bow to age last season, is going to give baseball a final fling as a free agent.

Pierce, released outright a month ago by the Giants, advised them today that he was accepting their invitation to spring camp without a contract. Obviously, Pierce believes he still has enough slider stuff in his southpaw arm to make the team despite the roster additions of two younger lefthanders (Ken MacKenzie and Bob Hendley) through winter trades.

"I sincerely hope Billy is right," said Chub Feeney, vice president of the ball club. "I'll be rooting for him."

"And so will I," said Alvin Dark who, as a sophomore manager in 1962, leaned heavily on Pierce to bring in the pressure games that meant the pennant.

Candlestick Park admirers of Pierce also will be rooting for him for many reasons: (1) his string of 14 consecutive victories in Candlestick, including his three-hit 5-2 triumph over the Yankees in the sixth game of the '62 World Series; (2) his 8-0 three-hit shutout of the Dodgers in the first game of the '62 playoffs; (3) his ninth inning fireman's role in the final game of the playoffs when he set the Dodgers down 1-2-3.

CANDLESTICK FANS gave Pierce a tumultuous ovation on opening day last season when he posted his 14th straight victory there. It was a 7-0 six-hit blanking of the Colts, Pierce's 206th career victory in his 17th major league season. At the moment things never looked brighter for Pierce.

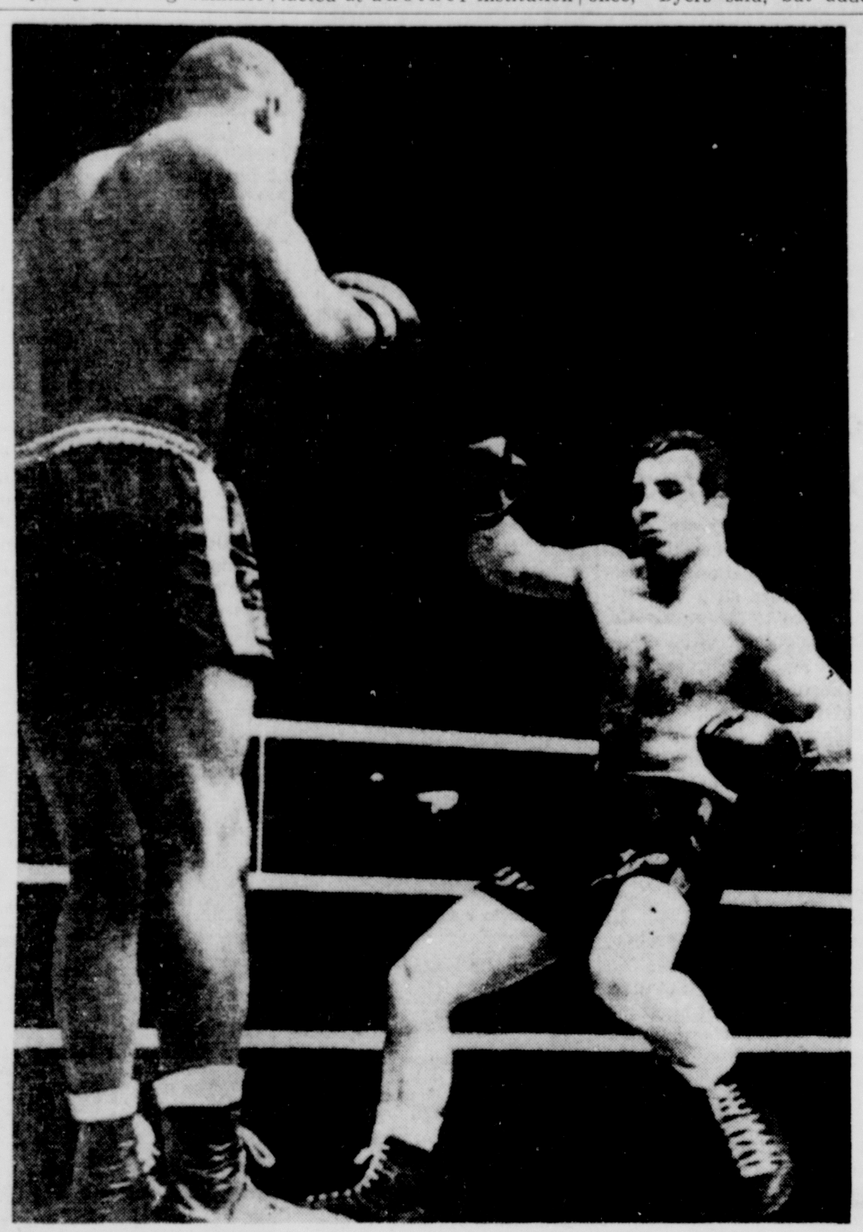
But four days later on April 20, the Cubs snapped Pierce's perfect Candlestick string behind the 4-0 shutout pitching of Bob Buhl. And thereafter Pierce's once unbeatable magic in Candlestick deserted him. He was to win only two more games in 1963 and wound up 3-11 with a not too impressive 4.27 ERA.

PIERCE WILL be 37 on April 2. The wisdom of nearly two decades in baseball will be his biggest asset in his comeback try this spring. Age that ultimately cuts down all athletic careers will be his biggest deficit.

The White Sox thought Pierce's arm was gone when they traded him to the Giants in the winter of 1961. He proved them wrong with his 16-6 season for the Giants in 1962.

Now, the Giants believe Pierce's arm definitely is finished although they hope he proves them wrong, too. If Pierce does, it wouldn't be the frist time an aging southpaw made a comeback in recent years.

CURT SIMMONS, two years younger than Pierce, has been doing great things for the Cardinals ever since the Phillies turned him loose unconditionally in 1960. In fact, Simmons seems to be improving with age. He was 15-9 last season with a 2.47 ERA, fifth best in the National League, behind only Sandy Koufax (1.88), Dick Ellsworth (2.10), Bob Friend (2.34) and Juan Marichal (2.41).



BEGINNING OF THE END—Floyd Patterson sends Italy's Sante Amonti toward ropes with a right to the head in eighth round of their scheduled 10-round bout yesterday at Stockholm, Sweden. Ex-world champion Patterson won on a technical knockout at 2:25 of the eighth round. (AP Wirephoto)

Victorious Patterson Still Hopeful Of Another Chance

STOCKHOLM (AP)—I'll never give up my hope for a chance to meet Sonny Liston again but I realize that maybe I don't deserve it yet. I want some more matches here first."

That was Floyd Patterson's reaction to his Monday night victory over Sante Amonti, the first short step on his comback campaign after failing to survive the first round of two title bouts with Liston.

"I consider the victory a step on the road toward a new chance at the world heavyweight title," said Patterson, who stopped Amonti in 2:25 of the eighth round of a 10-round match after knocking him down three times.

Although Amonti is the heavyweight champion of Italy he is unranked in the world ratings. Patterson is the No. 8 contender.

In fact there was doubt that Amonti would be approved as an opponent. In 1961 he had been involved in an auto accident in which a woman was killed. At the trial the boxer reportedly told the judge he lost his eyesight for an instant just before the accident. The judge recommended that his driver's license be revoked and a new hearing is pending. However, the European Boxing Union approved the Italian as an opponent for the ex-champ.

The last knockdown in the eighth found Amonti reeling back and finally sitting on the bottom rope. He got up, tried to move and finally accepted the inevitable. The Italian opened his arms wide in a gesture of resignation, a familiar ending for a European bout.

It was Floyd's first fight since he was knocked out by Liston in 2:10 of the first round at Las Vegas, Nov. last July 22. A year before in Chicago Liston finished him off in 2:06 of the first.

A's - To - Louisville Move Faces Battle

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Despite a blistering attack on his plan from other American League club owners, Charles O. Finley said today he is certain he will be permitted to transfer the Athletics from Kansas City to Louisville.

Finley said he would accept Gov. Edward T. Breathitt's invitation and would go before the Kentucky General Assembly at its opening session today in Frankfort "not to plead but to ask for their (the lawmakers) support."

"I think—no, I'm confident—the fans here will give as much support, if not more, to major league baseball as those in Kansas City," said the Athletics' owner, putting the emphasis on the confident.

NEGATIVE VOTE

Finley said he was looking forward to the Jan. 16 meeting of the club owners—knowing that three negative votes would defeat his plan.

"I'm not concerned about how many votes it takes to knock something out," he said.

"I'm confident after I have met with them and explained my problems, there will be no difficulty in getting the votes needed."

Finley signed a contract with the State of Kentucky yesterday to bring the Athletics to Louisville for the 1964 and 1965 seasons. The signing in Frankfort raised the ire of several of the American League club owners.

Under the pact with the state, the Athletics would play at the State Fairgrounds at Louisville. The state would get five per cent of net gate proceeds and 7½ per cent of gross concession funds.

Finley said nothing was definite at the end of the two-year period about moving to other cities. The Athletics' owner and Kansas City officials have deadlocked over a new contract for lease of a stadium.

Harney Wins L.A. Open And $7,500

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Golfer Paul Harney, who thought he'd never win another tournament until he captured the $50,000 Los Angeles Open, is a fellow who thinks tournament golf is for the birds—and he doesn't mean golf birdies.

Harney headed for his adopted home at Sunset Oaks near Sacramento, today, richer by $7,500 for his biggest victory after nine years on the tournament circuit.

The 34-year-old product of Worcester, Mass., shot an even par 71 for a 72-hole total of 280, four strokes under par for the distance, leaving behind the celebrated Arnold Palmer, U. S. Open champion Julius Bores and a few others who kept yipping at his heels but could never quite catch him in the final round.

Bobby Nichols was second, with a 71 for 281. Palmer, who could never get any closer than two shots of the front runner yesterday afternoon, finished in a four-way tie for third at 282.

Palmer had a 70, his third and his lowest score of the tournament. Tied with Palmer were Bob Goalby, 67; Dow Finsterwald, 78, and Al Geiberger, 70.

Dave Marr, with a 68., and Tommy Jacobs, 70, finished with 283, while Boros rallied with a 68 and a tie at 285.

The 34-year-old Harney started the round with a one-stroke lead and never relinquished it.

Palmer, Boros and most of the others will compete in the $30,000 San Diego open this weekend.

Not Harney. He definitely will restrict his tournaments this year to eight, starting with Bing Crosby's annual event two weeks away.

Harney's main interest is the club job at Sunset Oaks. He and his wife Patti have four kids, "and all that traveling, living in motels, is not for them."

Harney admittedly loved the money he won here but it would appear he likes the scratch but not the itch of tournament play.

Harney's last PGA victory was in the spring of 1959 at Pensacola, Fla. But last year he hauled in $10,000 as his share of a playoff with Palmer in the $100,000 Thunderbird at Akron, Ohio, plus $5,000 for fourth in the U.S. Open won by Boros—all in a matter of six days.

He also has collected $25,000 as his share of a television series as partner with Don January.

Football Fatalities Drop 26 Pct. In 1963

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Football fatalities in the United States dropped 26 per cent in 1963 compared to the previous year.

Dr. Floyd R. Eastwood, chairman of the injury and fatality committee of the American Football Coaches Assn. said yesterday that deaths in the sport went from 19 each in 1961 and 1962 to 14 last year.

The medical researcher said of the 14 deaths directly attributed to football, 11 happened in high school and one each in sandlot, professional and college play.

Eastwood, a professor at Los Angeles State College, has been recording football deaths for 32 years.

He said a total of eight football fatalities last year were ascribed to indirect causes such as heart failure and perforated aorta.

The report said in the 32-year life of the survey, fatalities directly due to football have averaged 17.28 per year.

Per 100,000 players, said the report, the incidence of direct fatal injuries in 32 years has been very low, averaging 1.78 in high school and 2.35 in college play.

The report said that applying this figure to the rate on traffic fatalities and other similar unnatural causes of fatalities, it is safer to be playing football than to walk to the corner store on a holiday afternoon.

Al Mengert Leads Lucky Qualifiers

SAN FRANCISCO, (UPI) — Al Mengert's 75-70—145 at Harding Park yesterday led the field of 68 aspiring qualifiers for the four berths open to Northern California pros in the Lucky International to be played here Jan. 20-27.

Mengert, Sacramento pro, was followed by Frank Lopez, Concord, and John Fry, Oakland, both with 149s. George Bruno of San Jose fired a 150 and won a sudden death playoff from Scotty McBeath of Redwood City.

Miniski, Garfield Lead S.R. Cage Victories

Nick Miniski scored 25 points to lead the Probation Department to a 63-33 victory over the San Rafael Saints and Milt Garfield's 21 points led Fairchild Corp. to a 54-32 win over the Post Office last night in San Rafael Recreation Department's winter basketball league action at San Rafael High School.

Portland Seeks A's Franchise

PORTLAND (UPI)—An invitation was sent yesterday to Charles Finley asking him to move his American League Kansas City Athletics here.

Multnomah County Commissioner Mel Gordon issued the invitation to the Kansas City owner in a telegram.

"Portland is one of the great sports centers in the west with more than 2.5 million people to draw from," Gordon said.

"We are now in the process of voting on a new 60,000-seat covered stadium," he said. "I know that the people of Portland and the great northwest stand ready, willing and able to provide your club with a new home."

Wilt, Robertson Dominate NBA's Major Statistics

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Basketball Assn. season reached its midpoint last weekend with Boston and Los Angeles in their customary top spots in the divisional races and a pair of familiar gents dividing individual honors.

Wilt Chamberlain, who's been pouring in the points again after a short-lived stint as a supporting actor in the San Francisco Warriors' offensive show, and Oscar Robertson, the Cincinnati Royals' ace-of-all-trades, dominate the NBA's five major statistical departments announced today.

Chamberlain leads in scoring, field goal percentage and rebounding while the Big O, second in scoring, is No. 1 in free throw accuracy and assists.

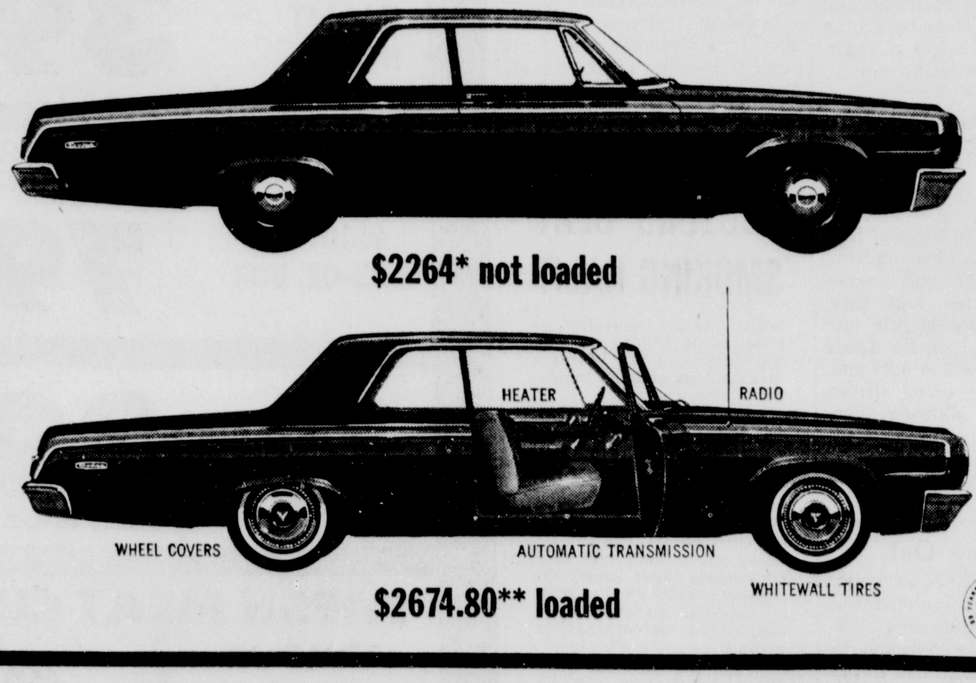
THE DEPENDABLES: SUCCESS CARS OF '64



The car on top is a 1964 Dodge 330 two-door sedan. It has a unitized, rust-protected body, front seat belts, an alternator electrical system, self-adjusting brakes and a 225 cubic inch, six-cylinder engine. It will go 32,000 miles between major grease jobs, 4,000 miles between oil changes.

The car on the bottom is the same model, a 1964 Dodge 330 two-door sedan. And we can say the same good things about it.

There's one difference. It's equipped the way many people buy cars these days.

For a fact, Dodge offers a full line of cars in the low-price field. Sedans, hardtops, convertibles, wagons, the works. They call 'em "The Dependables," because they are.

CELTICS SECOND

Dodgers Honored As Team Of Year

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "We must have had a helluva club," Buzzie Bavasi said today when he learned the Los Angeles Dodgers have been named Team of the Year for 1963 in the annual poll conducted by The Associated Press.

"It was a year of good clubs," said the Dodger general manager, "and I think the award means more than it has in maybe 10 years. There were so many great teams in 1963. I know the Boston Celtics had a fine team and so did the Chicago Bears. So I think it a wonderful thing for our club to get the award."

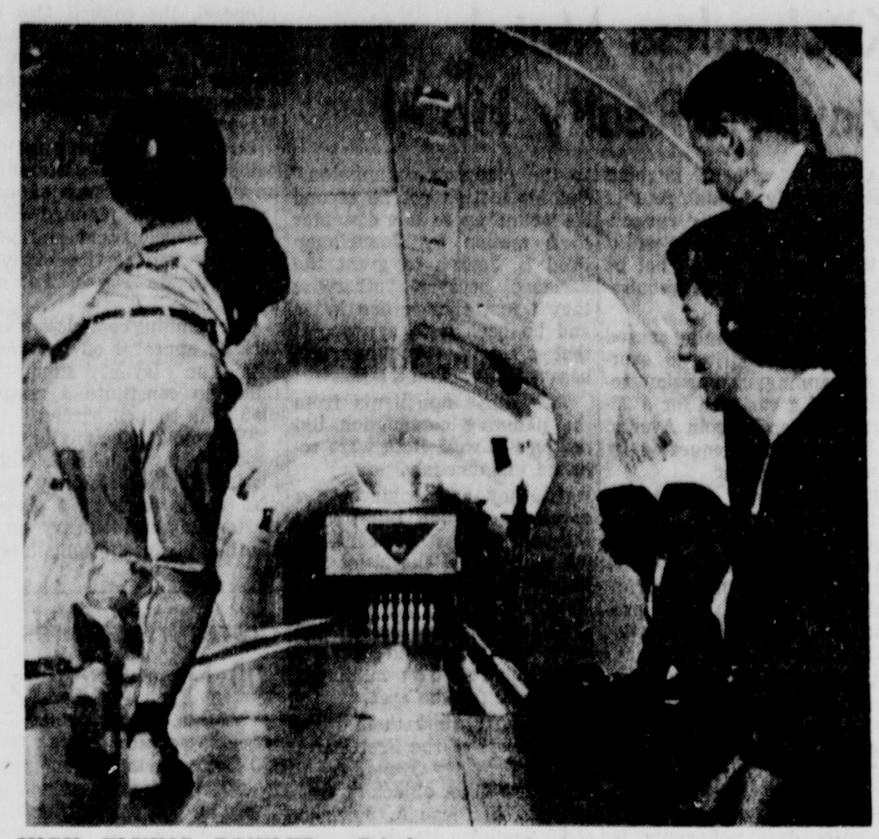
The Dodgers, who took only four games to beat the New York Yankees in the World Series, finished first by a wide margin. They received 335 points, more than the next three teams combined.

The Celtics, champions of the National Basketball Assn. were second with 133. The Bears, champions of the National Football League, were third with 114.

Next came the first-ranked University of Texas football team with 64 points, Loyola of Chicago's championship college basketball team with 49, the Eastern Division champion New York Giants of the NFL with 32 and the Navy football team with 29.

Bavasi said the 1963 season had many gratifying aspects. Among them:

The Dodgers won the National League pennant after blowing it the year before. Walter Alston "proved he was a good manager" after it was predicted he would be fired. The Dodgers swept a critical late-season series in St. Louis after some suggested they would collapse again. Pitcher Sandy Koufax became a super-star. And the Dodgers won the World Series in the shortest time possible.



HIGH FLYING BOWLER — Dick Weber of St. Louis gets ready to send the ball rolling down the alley. The only difference in this game and others is that he and Sylvia Wene, both national champions, met in a match aboard an air cargo travelling 600 miles an hour at 25,000 feet. It was all part of a publicity stunt and while the bowlers were high—their scores were low. See story. (AP Wirephoto)

Ever Bowl In A Jet Plane? Champs' Experiment A Flop

By FRANCIS STILLEY

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — It isn't easy to go bowling in a jet plane at 25,000 feet and 500 miles an hour.

The clouds keep getting in your way. They bump, and no matter what you think the balls do, they don't.

Two national bowling champions found that out yesterday. They tried the first—and without doubt the last — flying bowling alley in history.

It was a full-sized alley set up on a new jet cargo plane. It was complete with an automatic pin-setting machine, side channels to keep stray balls from going off through . . . well, or . . .

Champion Dick Weber of St. Louis stepped up and nearly was blinded by the floodlights and flashbulbs of news photographers aboard a flight to Dallas from New York.

He let go of the ball and down went every pin for a strike.

"I feel like I'm walking on air," he said afterward.

Then came the turn of Sylvia Wene of Philadelphia. She got a spare amid cheers which drowned out the whine of the jet engines.

"Wow!" exclaimed Miss Wene.

Too bad things couldn't have kept up that way. But some days just aren't right for flying bowling.

"I'll try to get a smoother altitude," came on intercom announcement from Capt. Russell Sapp, the plane's pilot and a fair hand in the bowling lanes himself.

While the airborne alley was bucking around, Weber went forward and kiddingly said to Sapp:

"Hey, captain, don't you like me? Every time I throw the ball it goes thataway."

With a laugh the captain countered: "You mean I'm ruining your score?"

Something did, for sure.

When the game was over after various delays Miss Wone had a final count of 146, with one strike and six spares. Weber had 144, three strikes and three spares.

PUBLICITY STUNT

The flight, dubbed Operation Astrobowl, was a publicity stunt staged by American Airlines to demonstrate how big its new cargo planes are.

American Machine and Foundry, which makes bowling alley equipment, joined in the gimmick and sweated through four days getting the alley and pinsetting machine pinned down in the plane.

It also turns out that the World Series of bowling, as it is called, will take place in Dallas Jan. 15 to 26.

COW PALACE BATTLE

Well-Rested Warriors Host Celtics Tonight

It will be a well-rested group of San Francisco Warriors who will host the busy Boston Celtics tonight at the Cow Palace, 8:15 o'clock.

The Celtics invaded S. F. last Friday after five days of rest and beat the Warriors, 111-101. The Warriors had just come off a four-game road trip and had played St. Louis at Oakland the night before.

Now it is San Francisco that has had a four-day rest, while Boston has dropped a pair of squeakers at Los Angeles since dumping the Warriors.

Those two losses to Los Angeles were the first the Celts had suffered at the hands of a Western Division team after 15 straight decisions over Western clubs.

The Warriors have three other games on tap in the next six days. They play New York Thursday at Richmond, return to the Cow Palace Friday to battle Los Angeles, and Sunday to host New York.

Four-Way Tie At Indian Valley

There was a four-way tie for first place in the first flight of the Mixed Best Ball Twosomes tournament Saturday at the Indian Valley Golf Club. Some 21 couples participated in the tourney.

In first place were Mrs. Rowe Waller and Tom Washington, Mrs. Carl Forsman and Frank Duddy, Mrs. Lynn Sumpter and Ernie Korn, and Mrs. M. Anderson and Charles Russell, all tied with 66's.

Second Flight — Mrs. William May and Bob Cruikchank, Dicie Gates and C. B. Coleman, 67; Mrs. Jerry Evans and Rowe Waller, Mrs. Ernie Korn and Joel Hamby, 68.

Hole-in-one tourney—Mrs. Arthur Sears, 10-4; Bud Sparrow, 10-0.

Future Has Good Silver Salmon Angling After Fingerlings Grow

STEVENS

Could be that we are in for some fast and fancy silver salmon angling in the near future. Some 80,000 silvers will spend their kindergarten life in the coastal streams of Santa Cruz, Marin, Sonoma and Mendocino counties. Aptos Creek has received 10,000 of the youngsters; Nicasio Creek in Marin has accommodated 20,000 above the dam and 10,000 below the dam. Willow Creek, in Sonoma County, got 5,000; in Mendocino County, the South Fork of Big River and the headwaters of the Noyo River hosted 15,000 fingerlings each.

The catching of these silver salmon is in the future, of course, but it is something to look forward to. A silver salmon has it all over a Chinook for spectacular acrobatics when hooked on light tackle.

I WISH I could say "Come and get 'em!" to the steelheader who would fish the coast streams, but alas and alack, 'twould be untrue. Rain in copious quantities is badly needed in practically all the tide-run sections of our coastal streams. The one exception to that rather gloomy report is the Russian from the mouth to just above Guerneville. Quite a few of the more expert—or more lucky—have taken a fairish number of steelhead the past few days. But for the other streams, both north and south of the Gate, we must have rain to provide even moderate success.

On the striped bass front, however, it is a different tale. Especially as pertains to the entire San Pablo Bay and many of the favorite back country haunts.

It is very apparent that the average weight of the stripers taken the past two weeks far exceeds that of olden days in the same areas.

ON SUNDAY, Harvey Roberts and friend, of San Rafael, left Joe's Launching at Santa Venetia, fished off China Camp in 25 feet of water with bullhead baits and beached their skiff at 11:15 a.m. with limits of fresh run bass from 12 to 20 pounds. It was Saturday that the Robinsons, Jack and Dottie, boated five bass from 12 to 18½ pounds, and Mrs. Johnny Paulson limited out to 17 pounds. All the above from San Rafael, and using bullheads. One epic event took place on Friday. Joe Nerviani, with Maury Sisco and son, Bruce, offered bullhead baits to the fish in the same area. Three limits were boated with the epic vent being the stunt of young (11 years old) Bruce in hooking, playing and landing 12, 18 and 23 pound fish.

Alice Quan verified the good fishing off China Camp . . . "Just lots of nice bass to 20 pounds, Ralph. Everything hunky dory!"

Seems that a medium run of perch has entered the bay. Alice Quan saw one redtail unloaded. Also lots and lots of fine fat flounders taken by the guy or gal who fishes for this epicurean delight (small hooks, small pieces of bait, and a nervous finger on the reel)—just opposite to the modus operandi for bullhead fishing.

MARIN CAGE PROSPECTS

Novato, Dark Horse Team?

(Fifth in a series on Marin County Athletic League basketball prospects.)

By RALPH CHATOIAN

Novato has been tabbed by some observers as the "dark horse" of the Marin Athletic League basketball race.

The Hornets from Novato High School lack the height some of the other MAL teams have, but they do have some experience back from a junior team of 1963.

Winning five of their first eight practice games this year, the Hornets have already won more games than the entire season last year when they won only four of 25 games. Their league slate last season was 2-10, the two victories over winless Terra Linda.

Most of the Novato scoring comes from returning forward Nick Willard, a 6-1 senior. He was second in league scoring last season with an average of 16.8 per game.

VETERANS

The other starter off last year's team back this season is Ken Beade (6-3), a forward. Other performers for the Hornets who saw varsity action last year are forwards Kelly French (5-10) and Tom Miller (6-2), and guards Joe Wright (5-7) and Barry Hachmyer (5-10). All are seniors.

Up from junior varsity are center Fred Arnold (6-6), a senior; Ron Rowell (5-9), a junior guard, and sophomore forward John Dolinsek (6-1).

Promoted from the B team are senior forward Ron Harley (5-11), senior guard Ken Marder (5-8) and senior guard Bob Phillips (5-8). Phillips was an all-league cager last year for the Novato B team and should provide much help this year for the varsity.

Other cagers on this year's varsity quint are senior guard Ben Becker (5-9), a transfer student, and senior center Phil Johnson (6-3), who didn't play any basketball last year.

STARTERS

When the Hornets take the court, starting lineup should be Arnold at center, Rowell and Phillips at the guards, and Willard and Miller or Beade at the forwards.

John Panagakis, varsity cage coach for the Novato quint, feels the league will be very balanced this year, but sticks to the majority of the forecasters who see a three-team race between Redwood, Marin Catholic and San Rafael.

He said he feels Novato will be much improved over last year's showing.

Novato, after drawing the opening day bye, will play San Rafael Jan. 14 on the Hornets' court to open its league action. Game time for the opener will be 4 p. m.

City Soon To Raze Buildings In Path Of Road Extension

E Street School To Remain For Several Months At Least

Destruction of buildings the City of San Rafael has purchased for westerly extension of Third Street may start within two months—except the E Street School, which may be left untouched until the end of the school year.

The city council last night authorized Public Works Director Norris Rawles to prepare a call for bids for demolition of all buildings the city has purchased for the street extension, which is to help provide a one-way street pattern when the Division of Highways installs its new interchange at San Rafael's south entrance.

The call, however, does not affect the portion of the E Street School building which the city acquired in a property exchange with San Rafael Elementary School District.

City Mgr. Dan E. Andersen said the school district had asked that this be undisturbed until the end of June. Councilmen at first expressed doubt the city could wait that long, but after discussion, directed Rawles to find out when the Division of Highways expects to start work on its part of the project. From that date, the time when the city would need to demolish one wing of the school could be calculated, councilmen felt.

"It probably won't be before July 1," predicted Councilman Fred E. Jensen.

Holding up the state's part is a project at the opposite end of the city: the proposed low-level bridge across the San Rafael Canal at Grand Avenue. Several protests against this have been received by the Division of Highways, and Army Corps of Engineers' clearance has not yet been received.

The city moved last night toward action on Third Street widening in that area also. The council authorized City Mgr. Dan E. Andersen to pay $31,500 for property necessary for that widening which will take the front two apartments off an apartment house at Third and Mary streets. A condemnation suit for the property had been scheduled to go to trial Jan. 28, but Andersen said the owners were willing to accept $31,500 and call off the court action. He and City Atty. David Menary Jr. both recommended acceptance. The budget has a $27,000 item for the acquisition.

The San Rafael City Council Also:

1. Rescinded by unanimous vote, a resolution to ban parking on Lincoln Avenue, between Francisco Boulevard and Laurel Place, from 7 to 9 a.m. and 4 to 6 p.m. Twenty-two business owners in the area, led by Jackson A. Bennett of National Auto Parts Co., signed a petition against the restriction, and most were on hand to protest in person. Councilman L. H. Bud Baar moved the recission, remarking the traffic bottleneck could be left alone until the highway project is completed.

2. Learned from City Manager Andersen that Edward Welsh of Ebasco Services has approved the redrawn schematic layout for the new city hall, now within space requirements set up in the Ebasco Services report, and is working with the architects on details of the plan.

3. Held off action on a proposal to accept a surety bond to permit release of $209,000 in Marin Bay Assessment District 2 funds which are held up by a stop order filed against Latipac-Perini Co., former developer, by Richmond Pipe Co., a contractor.

4. Approved paying a $46,000 assessment to the Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District, from Northgate Industrial Park Assessment District funds, provided a copy of the assessment is first furnished City Clerk W. L. Morgan.

5. Authorized Major John F. McInnis and Clerk Morgan to execute the urban thoroughfare agreement with the county. Public Works Director Rawles reported that, at a meeting yesterday on the 1964 urban thoroughfare program, $38,000 in county funds was transferred from construction to site acquisition for the Third Street widening project.

6. Put over discussion of a proposed amendment to the excavation ordinance.

7. Passed to print an ordinance increasing to 21 days the time in which an appeal from a planning commission decision could be head by the council.

8. Passed to print an amendment to the setback ordinance on First Street, eliminating special setback requirements.

9. Authorized City Engineer Dominic Selmi to work out for the parks and recreation department boundaries and a proposed access road for a park site in Terra Linda annexation offered as a gift to the city by the Freitas Estate.

Patterson had just got out of his truck and walked behind another when it backed up and struck him.

Tax Collection Totals 55 Pct. —$16.2 Million

Marin County's first instalment property tax collection this year totaled $16,284,454.16, treasurer-tax collector Stanley J. Fontez announced yesterday.

This was slightly more than 55 per cent of the total charge of $29,292,127.28. The rest will be collected on the second instalment payment in April.

The county collects taxes for itself and for other taxing jurisdictions within the county. Fontez said he apportioned to governmental units 55 per cent of their total tax bills from the first installment receipts.

Last year first instalment payments aggregated $14,342,857.74 of a total bill of $25,836,422.12.

Marinite On Federal Jury

One Marin citizen, Mrs. Erma M. Scott of 9 Sunview Avenue, San Anselmo, was among the 23 men and women empaneled on the Federal Grand Jury in San Francisco yesterday.

The jury of 17 men and six women will serve until May 2. They were empaneled by District Judge Oliver Carter.

Mrs. Scott is assistant librarian in the San Anselmo Library.

Kitchenless Motel May Be Really Hotel

A motel without kitchens may be really a hotel, four of San Rafael's five city councilmen decided last night—and if it is a hotel, it should not be subject to land area requirements for a motel.

This line of reasoning caused the council majority to overturn planning commission rejection of a variance for a 25-unit motel on Lincoln Avenue at Laurel Place, requested by Ventura Farms, Inc.

The planning commission had refused a variance from requirement in the apartment zone that a motel have 1,000 square feet of land area for each unit. Ventura Farms proposes 25 units on a 12,000-square foot lot.

Attorney Samuel W. Gardiner, for Ventura Farms, appealed on the basis that the area is "becoming commercial" and the property owner should not be penalized pending its rezoning. The 1,000-square foot minimum does not apply in commercial zones.

Gardiner's telling argument, however, was something different: That the planned two-story structure is really a hotel, since it will not contain kitchens except in the manager's quarters.

Councilman Charles W. Aby moved the appeal be rejected because "we cannot grant the variance on a different set of arguments than was presented to the planning commission." But his motion got no second He wound up as sole dissenter to a motion by Councilman Fred E. Jensen to grant the variance because "otherwise they'll just change one letter and be back with a proposal that meets the requirements because it is called a hotel."

Two other appellants from the planning commission did not fare so well. Both were rejected unanimously.

Attorney and engineer for developer Morden Dunn tried without success to convince the council that the 27-lot San Rafael Woods subdivision on Meyer Road and an extensin of C Street should be allowed because all lots would meet the 10,000-square foot minimum prescribed for the area.

Arrayed against them were 21 members of the Bret Harte Heights Property Owners Assn. plus a few other objectors. One of them, Clarence A. Bowman of 96 Southern Heights Boulevard, read from the minutes of council and planning commission meetings in 1957 to show the lot minimum had been reduced from 20,000 square feet contingent on all access being from the foot of the steep terrain—with none from narrow, winding Meyer Road. Dunn proposed 14 lots fronting on Meyer Road.

In upholding planning commission rejection of Dunn's proposal, the council also directed that the commission consider rezoning the area to restore the 20,000-square foot minimum for the portion along Meyer Road.

Ben Ostlind, arguing for developer D. M. Christensen's appeal from turndown of master plan of a planned community development and permits for two service stations at Northgate North, fared even worse.

The planning commission had refused approval on the basis that the layout submitted failed to constitute a master plan. The council agreed.

"You don't have anything to appeal," Mayor John F. McInnis told Ostlind. The applicant was told to draw up a proper master plan and then try again at the planning commission level.

Library Acquires 100 New Records

The San Rafael Public Library has acquired more than 100 long-playing phonograph records, which are proving popular with the public, librarian Vivian Smith told the library board last night.

The records, ranging from language records to operas, were acquired with funds raised by the book sale last spring by the Retired Teachers Assn. of Marin County, she said.

Records will be added to the collection from rental funds paid for borrowing those now on hand. The initial supply was purchased shortly before Christmas.

Admits Removing Jury Duty Names

CHICO (AP) — A clerk has admitted removing from a jury list the names of persons who returned verdicts of acquittal during 1963 for persons being prosecuted by Butte County Assistant Dist. Atty. Augustus Noland. The clerk said she did so at Noland's request.

The testimony came yesterday in the opening of an unusual public session of the Butte County Grand Jury into assertions that Noland violated the State Penal Code section that allows only a judge to remove names from Jury lists.

Noland is expected to testify sometime before the hearing ends this week.

SPRING '64

The Season Of The Big Plunge

By GAY PAULEY
UPI WOMEN'S EDITOR

NEW YORK—Spring '64 is the season of the big plunge in fashion.

Necklines on many evening dresses dip so daringly low that if a girl sneezes, heaven help her. One New York designer, Luis Estevez, told a showroom full of buyers recently, as he described one black sheath formal, "If you have to wear a bra, don't wear this dress. I didn't want Dior to outdo me."

The reference was to the collection Marc Dohan did for the Paris branch of Dior a season ago when he cleaved dress fronts to the waist. For the new season, Estevez is just one of numerous designers just as daring.

The showstopper in the Geoffrey Beene collection for spring is one that can be unbuttoned all the way to Las Vegas showgirl level. The model who wore it had on a jewelled bra.

DESIGNER CEIL CHAPMAN slashed the neckline of a black crepe dress to a deep V at the front, then laced it up—but not so the sides joined by any means.

Designer Bill Blass at Maurice Rentner used black chantilly lace over nude silk for a sexy group of short formals, most of which bare the shoulders, many the breastbone.

There were among the more than 80 designers and manufacturers participating in this, a week of concentrated showings of spring fashions to the nation's visiting reporters. Everybody from Dior to Du Pont is in the act and before the week is over, the reporters will have seen the new coats and suits, dresses, millinery, footwear and other accessories, hair styles, beauty aids and new fabrics.

Staging the shows are the New York Couture Group with its 42nd semiannual "Press Week" and a new group called The American Designer Series (Ads).

Fashion's creators aren't content with frontal exposure for spring and summer. Many slashed necklines at the back too, into deep squares, U or V shapes. An to go with the new accent on curves, they kept the silhouette of most evening wear slim. The grand exceptions came in the sweeping, billowing skirts some designers showed in airy chiffon and organza, coupled with cape-like sleeves or scarves wafting in their wake.

ALL TOLD, there's more feminine flutter in evening clothes than there's been since the days of the great Paris houses of Worth and Lanvin at the turn of the century.

Ostrich plumes frame necklines of formals. Ceil Chapman showed a plume border on the hem of a white chiffon formal. The New York branch of Dior created a formal covered entirely in ostrich dyed yellow and orange hues and dubbed it the "gumdrop."

ADELE SIMPSON, manufacturer-designer, showed a feather topping (more akin to guinea than to ostrich) for a floor length formal. The top, an easy-fitting overblouse, was in shades of brown and white. The narrow columns of a skirt, in white silk serge. Mrs. Simpson also bordered stoles in ostrich as toppers for slinky formals.

Here are highlights of other collections shown to date:

TOWNLEY—The designer at this firm is Donald Brooks whose theme seemed to be more flounce to the ounce. Many of his late day and evening clothes were flounced. Another major trend here — brightly colored posies of giant scale "painted" on dark backgrounds.

SAMUEL WINSTON — This manufacturer's designer, Roxane, followed the trend to more fit. She coupled bias — cut fronts on suits and dresses with straight line at the back. Shoulders looklagiry by being dropped and expanded through the upper sleeves, rather than being squared.

BRANELL — Capes again, cut in varying lengths. And costumes from this house which long has paired coat and dress ensembles for any season. The coats are designed to stand alone or go with the companion dress.

TIFFEAU & BUSCH — The firm's designer is Jacques Tiffeau, French-born, and the firm has become known for its jaunty and youthful clothes from daytime dresses right on into evening. For spring, Tiffeau included a group of at-home clothes that carry out the season's decolletage theme. One hostess fantasy was a plaid organza with a demure high neck in front and deep decolletage turned to the back.

ADELE SIMPSON of New York designs this evening ensemble to cover milady with feathered elegance. The designer's spectacular costume in her spring 1964 collection features an overblouse done entirely of guinea hen feathers. The speckled plumage blouse tops a long white silk serge gown. Few Letters Problems In Handwriting

By DAVID NYDICK
U.P.I. Education Specialist

Research shows that children's problems in handwriting usually occur with a few rather than many letters.

Parents can help by encouraging their children to practice. Don't make a big issue of handwriting but do make your child aware of its importance.

Q: My third-grade child is learning regular writing and is having difficulty. His work is not neat and his letter formation is poor. How can I help him?

A: The first step is to talk with the teacher. If your child has poor coordination and has not developed the necessary muscular control, it would be best to delay changing to cursive (regular) writing. If this is not the case, there are three major things which must be learned. In cursive writing the letters are slanted as is the paper. There are various new letter forms which must be learned. In addition, the child must learn to make connecting strokes between letters.

YOU SHOULD find out the letter forms which are being taught in school. These vary slightly and you do not want to confuse the child. A reasonable amount of practice is essential. Perhaps you could encourage the writing of notes and letters to friends and relatives. Also remember that manuscript (printing) writing is a useful form and should be maintained.

Q: My son, John, is in the second grade. He still prints instead of writing. When should he learn to use regular writing?

A: Cursive (regular) writing is generally introduced in the third grade. Some schools may start at the end of the second grade while others may wait until the intermediate grades. It is not advisable to rush the change from manuscript (printing). Some of the indications that a child is ready to make the change are: His own desire to change; his ability to print all the letters properly; his ability to read cursive writing; his ability to copy printing properly and with reasonable speed. Usually a child has acquired the muscular control to make the change in about the third grade.

Bringing Up Baby

HINTS COLLECTED BY MRS. DAN GERBER, MOTHER OF 5

One of your baby's earliest educational devices is his sense of touch. Once little fists flutter open, he literally feels his way into life. As fingers explore he comes to know the difference between hard and soft, rough and smooth, warm and cold. Your cherub not only learns but gets a lot of pleasure from a variety of textures. Good reason to select toys with different surfaces. Fluffy, nubby, smooth or ribbed fabrics for a small baby...various plastics, metals, woods for an older tot.

•

Food for thought. Texture is important when it comes to food, too. Gerber Strained Foods are famous for their exceptional smoothness. Variety is also important, to stimulate appetite interest and provide a wide range of nutrients. Gerber offers over 50 lip-smacking choices, from fruits to meats, dinners to desserts, vegetables to egg yolks. All are "custom-cooked" according to their own requirements to preserve the ultimate in natural flavors . . . the utmost in nutritive values.

Great news for budding "gourmets": Gerber Strained or Junior Creamed Corn. Smooth-textured and sunny-colored, it's bound to make a big hit with little ones.

•

Talkathon tactics. Babies love to be talked and cooed to. Doesn't much matter what you say, it's the friendliness you put forward when you say it. Your baby is acutely aware of sounds and will delight in a lighthearted lilt . . . derive security from a caressing tone. Besides, the baby who is talked to a lot when he's young, is apt to form his own words faster. Happy gabfesting!

•

Another small-fry flavor special is Gerber Strained Creamed Cottage Cheese with Pineapple. The mildest cottage cheese is delicately laced with luscious pineapple and smoothly creamed into a dream of a dish. A good source of protein, it also provides riboflavin, an important B-vitamin. Gerber® Baby Foods, Box 72, Fremont, Michigan.

February Wedding Plan

Mr. and Mrs. Sydney Smith of Novato are announcing the approaching marriage of their daughter, Sharon Louise to Rich Safina of San Rafael, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Safina of Paso Robles.

The wedding will be Feb. 16 at the Novato Presbyterian church.

ADMIRING THE half million dollar diamond collection now on display at San Rafael Federal Savings and Loan Assn., 874 Fourth Street, San Rafael is Mrs. Jack Gazzola, wife of one of the association directors. The collection, being shown for the first time west of the Rockies, is insured by Lloyds of London and guarded by a uniformed officer.

Diamonds In Rainbow Collection Perfect For Any Gal's Wardrobe

The girilfriend of the poor young chap who remarked "Diamonds are a girl's best friend" must have seen the collection of rare diamonds now on display at San Rafael Federal Savings and Loan Assn.

A frock to match a diamond would have presented no problem even for the rags of the little match girl as colors in the half million dollar Rainbow Collection range from tangerine and pink to steel, black, and copper.

The 35 flawless gems have been loaned by Raymond B. Sallan, Detroit jeweler, who brought them out of Kimberley, South Africa, 26 years ago and resolved to keep them intact as a unique collection in order to loan them to schools and museums for exhibition purposes.

The collection, which heretofore has not been shown west of the Rockies, is in Marin because of the personal friendship of Manuel Winkelman of New York City, an art collector and vice president of Lane Bryant Stores, and Harold Elberg of Sleepy Hollow, president of San Rafael Federal Savings and Loan.

Winkelman is a cousin of the Detroit jeweler who owns the collection and got permission for Elberg's firm to exhibit the diamonds.

The diamonds, each weighing 1.29 carats, are of such perfection of uniform cut that the collection is unequalled in the world. The gems are insured with Lloyds of London and guarded while on exhibit by a uniformed officer.

Acting as hostesses along with the president's wife, Mrs. Elberg, are wives of other officers and directors of the association, the Mesdames Jack Gazzola, Charles W. Rosenbaum, Jackson Bennett, Jack Cooper and Mozart Kaufman.

Dance Group Has Two New Studios

Mrs. Robert Jenkins, chairman om Marin's Creative Dance Group, a non-profit parent-managed cooperative organization, announces that two new studios are now open for students of Dick Ford Dance.

One is the Burton Studio, 216 Greenfield Ave., San Anselmo, and the other is the Marinwood Park and Community Building at Miller Creek Road and Lucas Valley Road.

Both studios will hold classes on Wednesdays, starting Jan 8. Clases offered are pre-school and kindergarten, modern dance technique and tumbling and ballet. Mothers serving as coordinators of these classes are Mesdames Weld Wilkie, Joseph Polanshsek and James Hougland.

Advisers are Mesdames Harry Smith and Joseph Taylor, and in charge of special events are Mesdames Warren Jacobs and Ted Theiss.

Further information may be obtained by calling Mrs. Willard Hamilton of San Rafael, Mrs. Wilkie of Mill Valley or the Mill Valley studio.

THE 35 FLAWLESS DIAMONDS range in color from pink to black and weigh 45 carats. The collection is owned by a Detroit jeweler and diamond merchant. All of the stones are from the river beds in the Kimberly area of South Africa.

Club To Hear Talk On Figure Flattery

"Figure Flattery" will be the theme of a demonstration lecture to be presented Thursday by Mrs. G. John Faiola for Mill Valley's Outdoor Art Club members.

She will speak following the home-day buffet luncheon, which starts at 12:30 p.m.

With doll-size identical models called "Minnikins," Mrs. Faiola will explain how many images can be created by careful choice of apparel. "Flattering fashions," she says, "stem from the basic principles of art, line, color and texture."

Fabrics supplied by Mill Valley shops will be on display before the meeting and will be used to show the many effects that can be achieved by the proper combination of design and materials. To illustrate pattern construction Mrs. Faiola will bring a selection of suits and dresses that she has made.

How to buy a coordinated wardrobe ready for any occasion will also be covered by her talk. She will explain how to select a wardrobe with immediate use in mind, as well as how to foresee the occasion when "the dressed-up look can be a compliment to the hostess who has planned a special party." She will discuss the importance of color harmony in the wardrobe and illustrate the flexibility that can be accomplished by an imaginative mixing of colors.

"Clothing creates illusions," says Mrs. Faiola. "The result should be 'there is an atrractive woman, not an attractive gown.'"

Luncheon chairman Mrs. Albert S. Giesecke will be assisted by Mesdames Willis C. Elliot, Earle M. Marsh and William Pemberton. Decorations co-chairmen are Mesdames H. C. Kellers and J. Paul Hurd.

Mae McLellan (Mrs. Keith McLellan), a member, will have some of her paintings on display.

Marin Women

BARBARA CLARKE HAYES became the bride of James Edward Sherman at a nuptial mass at St. Anselm's Church in Ross. The couple will live in Tucson, where both are attending University of Arizona. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry G. Hayes of Kent Woodlands.

Woodwardia Circle To Hold Initiation

Woodwardia Circle will initiate a class of eight new members tomorrow at 8:30 p.m. at the IOOF Hall, San Rafael.

The following will be initiated: Eleanor Drolla, Ada Earwood, Harriet McBride, Fay Moone, Anita MacKenzie, Emily Brooks, Jean Bedock and Charles Bell.

Visiting dignitaries from several Bay Area circles will attend. Guardian Neighbor Beatrice Bell will be presiding officer for the evening.

Daylight Lamp

Straight from the missile age is an electronic daylight-type lamp that can be held in the palm of a hand. The 15-watt bulb is no larger than a plum tomato. The lamp originally was developed to provide better lighting for assembly of precision space instruments.

Millicent Mundet To Marry William E. Magee In Summer

Mr. and Mrs. Carlos Mundt of Terra Linda have announced the engagement of their daughter, Millicent Carlene Mundt, to William Edwin Magee of San Rafael. The announcement was made at a dinner at their home on Dec. 28.

Millicient is a senior at San Francisco State College, studying nursing. She attended Sir Francis Drake High School. She is the granddaughter of the late Clara M. and Francis A. Mundt and of Mr. and Mrs. John Botman of San Mateo, and the sister of Mrs. Rex Thomas Kearney Jr. of San Francisco and Sacramento.

William is the grandson of the late William Arthur Magee and of Mrs. Magee of Greenbrae and of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin C. Street of Piedmont. He is the son of the late William Arthur Magee and of Mrs. Janice Magee of San Rafael. His brother is Timothy James Magee of Berkeley and his sisters are Lurah and Janice Magee. He attended Sir Francis Drake High School and College of Marin.

The home of Mrs. Frank B. Lorigan in San Rafael was the setting on Dec. 29 for a cocktail party and buffet supper to honor the couple, hosted by Mrs. Lorigan's brother, Henry Street of Berkeley. They are great-aunt and great-uncle of the future bridegroom.

Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Norman Street of Berkeley and their children; Mrs. William Arthur Magee and her daughters, Lurah and Janice; Mr. and Mrs. Edwin C. Street of Piedmont, grandparents of the future bridegroom; Mr. and Mrs. Milton A. Marquard of Oakland; Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Street of Oakland; Mr. and Mrs. Louis Saylor of San Francisco; Mrs. June Scott of Mexico; Mrs. Merle Mercer of San Francisco, and Mrs. Helen Harris of Oakland; Mr. and Mrs. George Street of Oakland; Miss Millicent Mundt, William E. Magee, and Mr. and Mrs. Carlos Mundt of Terra Linda.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Stapes Opertion For Deafness Performed On Man 91 Years Old

VAN DELLEN

Age is no barrier to the stapes operation for deafness caused by otosclerosis. The oldest person to undergo this type of surgery, according to a report from the University of Southern California school of medicine, was a man of 91. Improved techniques deserve credit for bringing the benefits of this procedure to more and more persons. The operation does not help those with other types of deafness, hence the diagnosis must be accurate.

The amount of improvement varies with the extent of the hearing loss before surgery. Some regain essentially normal or serviceable hearing whereas others are able to hear close conversation but otherwise need a hearing aid. Most patients are satisfied with the results when they know in advance what to expect.

Otosclerosis is the most common form of deafness in young adults, especially women. It begins between the ages of 18 and 40 and is hereditary and progressive. Stiffness (sclerosis) of the last of the three bones (stapes) that transmit sound is responsible for hearing loss. Sound passes from the eardrum to the part of the inner ear that transforms sound waves into nerve impulses which, in turn, go to the brain.

The stapes is so named because it resembles the stirrup on a saddle. It is a ring that is horizontal on the part that receives the foot of the rider. The stapes looks just like its counterpart on the saddle.

THE HEARING loss in otosclerosis is in the lower tones especially; many victims have an associated ringing of the ears. Approximately 7 out of 10 will benefit by surgery.

Various procedures have been advocated in the last 15 years but the latest centers about the footplate of the stapes, that fits into the oval window of the cochlea (nerve center). This structure must be loosened to allow sound conduction. But since the results of this procedure are not always permanent, ear surgeons make a new stapes to replace the old. A footplate is made from a strip of vein which is attached to an artificial arch, made of polyethylene or tantalum. The parts are so small, the entire operation must be done under a special operating microscope.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

FILTH AND FUNGI

S. T. writes: My mother-in-law claims fungal infections such as ringworm of the hands and plantar's wart are due to filth. I don't believe it. Who is right?

REPLY

You are. Fungi prefer moist, damp areas but they are not the product of dirt. Plantar warts are not caused by fungi. Their growth is initiated by a virus usually over regions subject to pressure or injury.

MENTAL HYGIENE

Mrs. R. writes: Do you have a list of rules on promoting mental health?

REPLY

Our leaflet on migraine offers some common sense precepts on this subject. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for this leaflet.

INVESTIGATE

A. L. writes: Why has hair grown in the armpits of my 6-year-old daughter?

REPLY

Examination is suggested because this condition may be a manifestation of precocious puberty caused usually by glandular disturbances.

THOSE "RAYS" AGAIN

Mrs. T. N. writes: Do you have any information on rays coming from human eyes that could cause physical damage to another person?

REPLY

This question is for the science fiction editor.

Class To Adopt Korean Child

Terra Linda High School's sophomore class will adopt a Korean Child this spring under the foster parents' plan of New York.

The clas council voted to raise money to aid the child in Korea. Project chairman Nancy Loeber said the plan will cost $90 for the next six months, including funds for food and clothing for the child and his family and $8 a month for the child alone.

The class expects to receive a picture and letter from the child selected by the New York organization by March. The sophomores plan to continue to aid the child through the next two years and perhaps to pass the child on to another class when the Class of '66 graduates.

City Limit Rule Is Due Survey

A confidential survey of all employees of the Town of Corte Madera to determine if there would be resentment of employees residing outside the town limits was requested last night by town council.

The request followed a letter to the council from the Corte Madera Empoyees Assn. suggesting that existing regulations confining workers to city limits be expanded to a five-mile surrounding area.

Only exceptions at present are individual waivers signed by the council.

U.N. Special Fund Starts To Pay Off

By ARTHUR FLETCHER

UNITED NATIONS (WPS) — Five years after its creation, the U. N.'s pre-investment service, the Special Fund, is beginning to hit pay dirt — investment and dividends thereon.

Paul Hoffman, managing director of the fund, believes that both investment and dividends will accelerate in 1964.

His conviction is based on a belief that early setbacks in "blending international expertise and modern technology with national skills, aspirations and potentialities" have been surmounted.

This "blending" process has involved 13,000 local personnel and 1,300 internationally recruited business managers, educators and technicians in such projects as: searching for minerals; improving land and water use; and developing transport and communications.

A vital role has also been played by technologists aiding industrialization through the transfer of modern techniques and methods to local conditions and materials.

Here are some samples:

GHANA: As a by-product of the Volta River power and flood control dam at Akosomba, U. N. guidance was sought on use of downriver land. Result: 21,000 acres of land are to be opened up — as a pilot project, through drainage and irrigation — to the growing of rice, sugar, peanuts and animal fodders.

A 3-million-dollar contract has been awarded to an engineering firm to design and supervise the construction of the irrigation works deemed feasible by U. N. teams.

This is part of a 14-million-dollar outlay expected to save Ghana $5 million per year in foreign exchange on current imports of food which will be grown.

SYRIA: The source of water that made the Jezireh area between the Tigris and the Euphrates a granary in ancient days has been discovered by a team of English, French, Japanese, Italian, Syrian and Yugoslav technicians.

What originally underwrote the prosperity of now-arid, inhospitable Jezireh was two large underground water basins.

Thirty-three boreholes drilled during their survey have revealed the sub-surface waters which are believed capable of irrigating 75,000 acres of land and giving a livelihood to 100,000 people. Experimental farms have been created, and a Jezireh Water Development Board set up to assist the change-over from dry to irrigated farming.

CHILE: A Swedish firm has a $1 million contract for deep drilling of the magnetic anomaly in the Boqueron-Chanaral area of Chile. The anomaly is assumed to conform to a mass of iron ore.

If this is borne out by the drilling, a 100-million-dollar development investment will be justified.

Other Survey results — indicating the presence of substantial deposits of copper, lead and zinc, plus lesser deposits of gold, tungsten, silver and titanium, have already been turned over to Chile.

The minister of mines foresees "transcendental results" for Chile.

While these are notable examples of pre-investment success, when the governing council of the special fund meets later this month, Hoffman will also indicate that 32 fund projects are in trouble.

The reasons for most of the trouble stem from delay by governments or the fund's executing agencies in making money or facilities available, or in finding the needed specialists.

Nine countries have not been able to find nationals able to work with the imported technicians.

(WPS learns that a number of governments have indicated informally to the industries involved that they are being short-sighted in not making staff members available for such overseas assignments without losing their rights and positions with their companies.)

As of last June, 327 special fund projects had been approved and 238 of them were in various stages of execution.

Palm Springs Quake

PALM SPRINGS (AP)—An earthquake shook this desert community yesterday. The tremor at 3:47 p.m. rattled windows, but no damage was reported.

Indecent Exposure Man Is Committed

Derward M. Cranfill, 22, San Rafael, charged with indecent exposure, was commited to Atascadero State Hospital yesterday after hearing of psychiatric reports in Marin Superior Court.

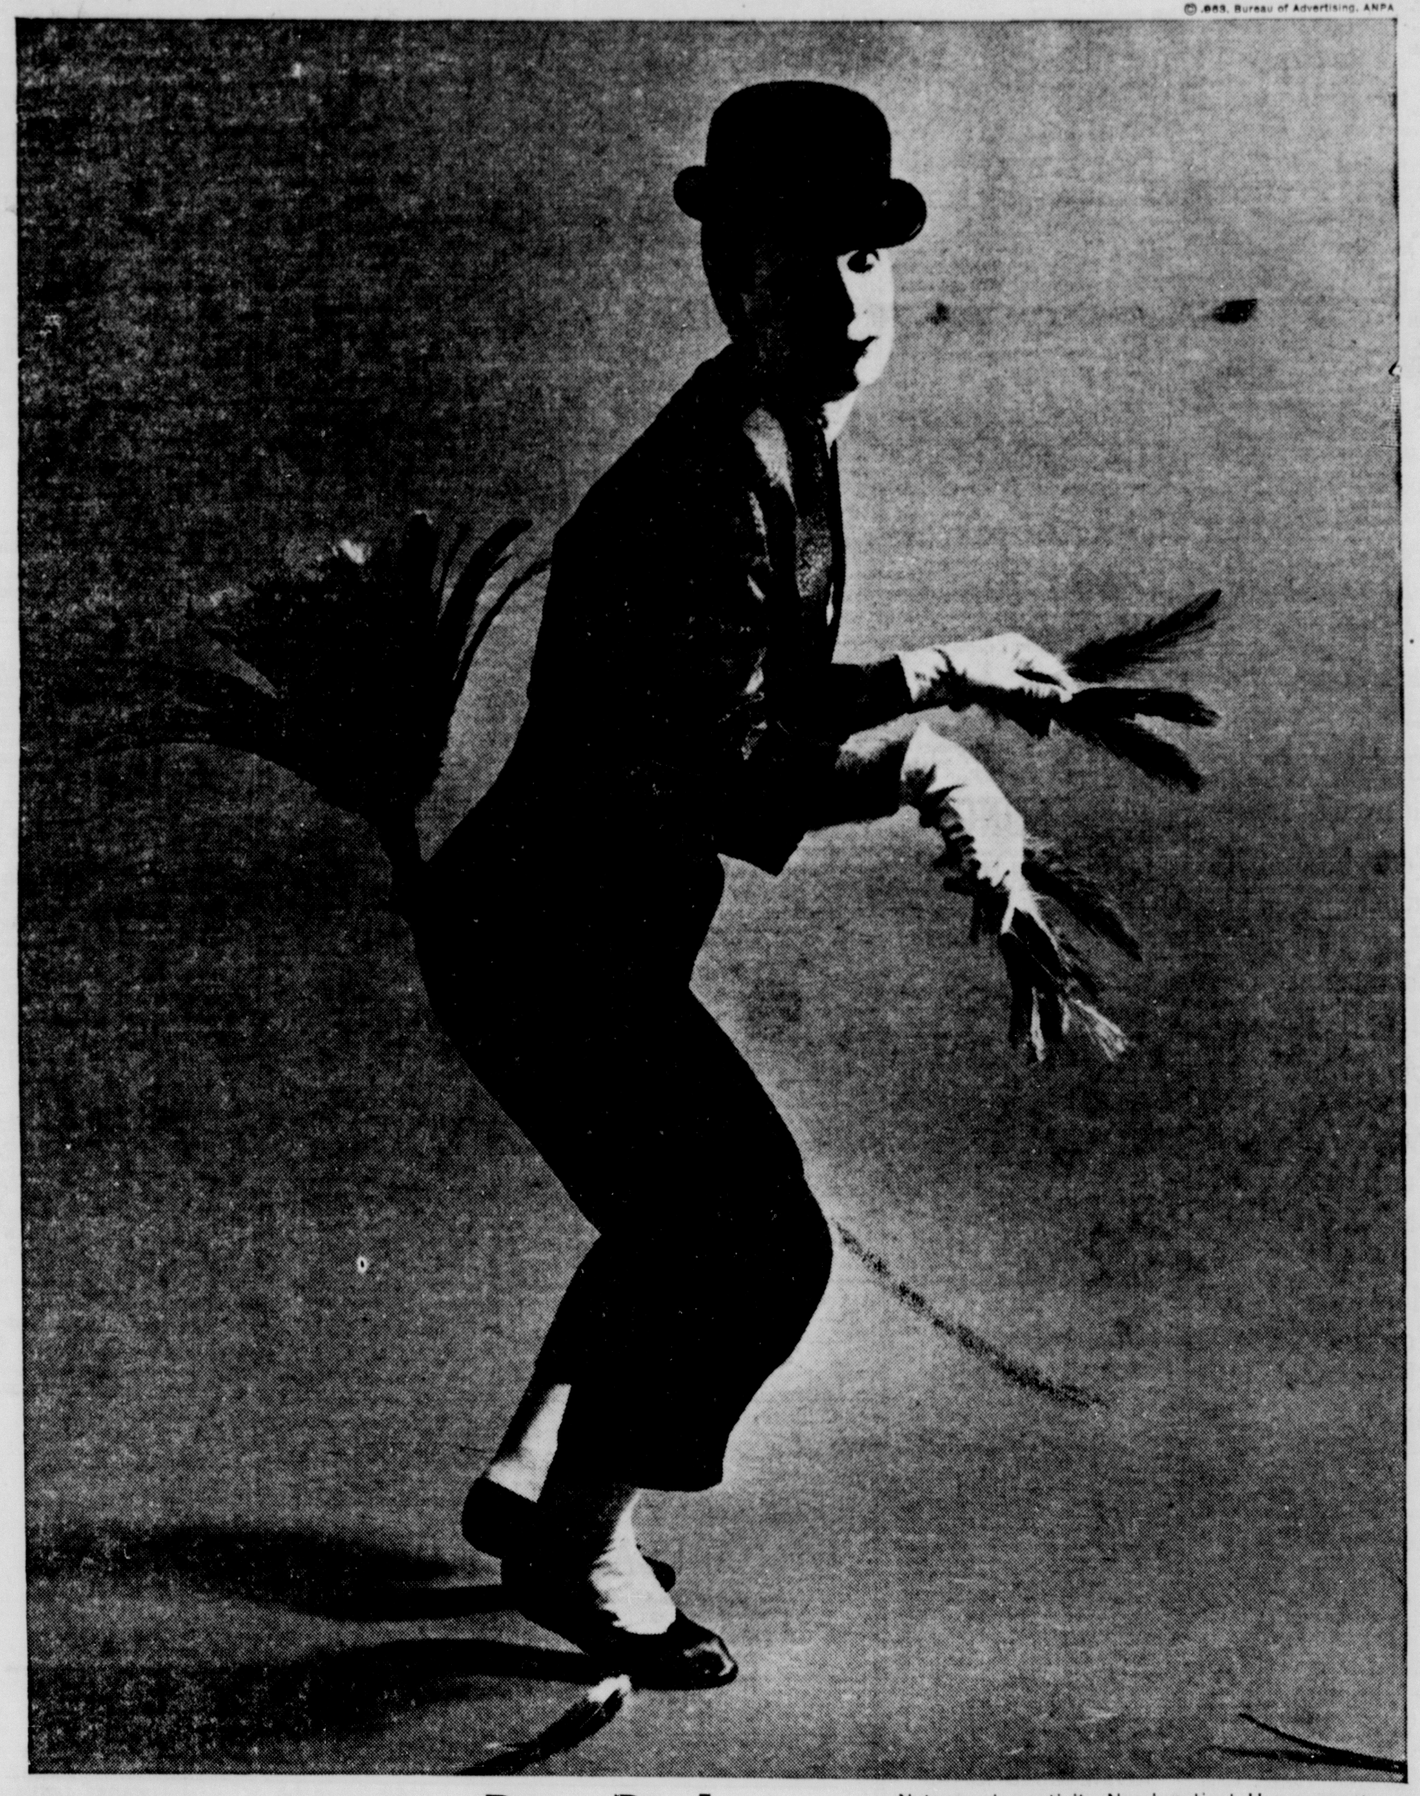
Cranfill was arrested last Nov. 26 for exposing himself to young girls in Tamalpais Valley. Judge Richard M. Sims Jr. ruled Cranfill to be a mentally disordered sex offender and ordered him to the hospital for further examination.

Folk Singers Due

A hootenanny has been set for 8 p.m. Saturday at the Terra Linda High School gymnasium. Folk singers and performing groups have been invited to play at the concert, open to the public, for prizes of $50 and $20. Tickets will be sold at the door.

'Merry Christmas'

OXFORD, England (UPI) — A dairy worker was about to pop an empty milk bottle into the sterilizer yesterday when he noticed something odd. He tipped up the bottle and pulled out a one-pound note with the message — "Merry Christmas milkman."



Rare Bird

Not many in captivity. Nearly extinct. He represents the lonely, vanishing breed of people who do not read newspapers. Hard to find people not reading newspapers? It's almost impossible. Because over 99 million people, in 9 out of every 10 households, read newspapers.

Are they all birds of a feather? Nothing could be further from the truth. People of all tastes and persuasions, in every age group, educational level, income bracket find a private sanctuary each day in the daily newspaper they choose to call their own. The daily newspaper is highly selective and personal, yet completely universal. This is the special quality only the daily paper can deliver.

Bataan Survivor Ends U.S. Career

By FRANK FARRARA

Two hundred and seventeen men of the 34th Pursuit Squadron shipped out of Hamilton Field, Nov. 1, 1941, for "destination unknown," but only 21 came back.

One who returned is Major Robert V. Reynolds of Mill Valley who survived the infamous Bataan death march and three years as a prisoner of war.

Last week he ended his 23-year military career, retiring from the Oakland Army Terminal as advisor to Army Reserve units.

When he sailed out through the Golden Gate in 1941, an administrative clerk in the Army Air Corps, he sailed right into World War II.

Reynolds arrived in the Philippine Islands 18 days before the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor. Within a short while thereafter he was an infantryman defending the Philippine beaches against Japanese invaders. "The squadron was assigned to the 31st Infantry Regiment and fought as infantry," he said.

Then came capture, the death march, prison camp, malaria, and malnutrition causing corneal ulcers in both eyes.

"I couldn't stand the light from a 10-watt bulb," Reynolds said. "I've still got the scars," he added, pointing to his eyes.

Reynolds can be numbered among the "one man in 10" who survived after being captured by the Japanese in the Philippines early in 1942.

He attributes his survival to luck and youth. "I couldn't do it today," he said.

He was 21 at the time of capture. His stamina carried him through the nine-day death march without food and only the water that could be scooped from the ground.

After the march, "I was lucky to be assigned to a small group of engineers rather than stay in the central camp . . . A lot died there . . . 150 a day," he said.

When he was shipped from a POW camp in the Philippines to a camp in Japan, he was "lucky" to be on a transport that wasn't sunk, he said.

When the war ended Reynolds was at Camp Funatsu, where American and British prisoners had been working a zinc mine, in the mountains about 100 miles west of Tokyo.

"We painted a POW on the roof on V-J Day and Navy planes spotted us. B-29s found us and dropped clothes and food."

Eventually came recuperation at Letterman General Hospital at Clinton, Iowa. Reynolds later wrote a book of his experinces entitled "Of Rice and Men." Critics praised it as "a book worth reading . . . a very modest and yet a strong narrative . . . a story simply and modestly told."

Reynolds returned to his home in Duluth, Minn., and decided to re-enlist in the Army. "I didn't have anything else in mind, and they put me on temporary duty at home," he said. "It wasn't unattractive."

He was later appointed a reserve officer, was called to serve as a second lieutenant during the Korean War.

Later service included two years as adjutant at the Richmond Quartermaster Depot, three years as adjutant with Quartermaster Corps in Stuttgart, Germany, and then at the Oakland Army Terminal.

Reynolds said he chose to stay in Marin after retirement because he has liked the area since the days of his assignment at Hamilton Field.

"Now I'm going into the bicycle business," he said. He is buying Hoverson's Cyclery in Mill Valley, taking over March 1.

Reynolds, his wife, Annette, and five children live at 280 Hazel Avenue.

TO SPEAK IN MARIN—Max Rafferty, state superintendent of public instruction, will speak on "Trends in California Education" Friday at 8 p.m. in the auditorium of Central School in Sausalito. He will appear under sponsorship of the Cantral-Bayside and Richardson Bay Parent-Teacher Assns.

Tax Dilemma Deadline In Sausalito

Sausalito city councilmen must make their decision at tonight's meeting on whether to approve the added one-cent state gasoline tax.

The council has said it wants the money but does not approve of the Collier-Unruh Act providing for the raise.

The deadline is Friday for the appropriation of gas tax monies to be collected in January, City Mgr. Charles A. Brown said. The state has told Sausalito it cannot get the money without approving the imposition of the added one cent.

The council will also be asked to discuss a proposed raise in the city clerk's salary, effective in April, from $2 per year to $40 per month. It will hear reports from Brown on a review of objectives for the remainder of fiscal 1963-64 and some suggestions for improving the civil service rules ordinance.

Bagley Will Speak On Winning Elections

Republican Assemblyman William T. Bagley of San Rafael will discuss "Winning Elections—for a Change" at the College of Marin tonight at 8 o'clock in room 34 of the science building.

The talk is sponsored by the Ross Valley Republican Assembly, headed by R. L. Remington of San Anselmo. Lee Sherry, vice-chairman of the Republican State Central Committee, will introduce Bagley.

Remember Mooney? Freed 22 Years Ago

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Twenty-two years ago "America's Dreyfus case" ended.

In Sacramento, Gov. Culbert Olson leaned toward a row of radio microphones and said, "I hereby grant a full pardon to Thomas J. Mooney."

Olson's words cleared Mooney of any participation in the bloody 1916 Preparedness Day bombing in San Francisco.

Standing next to the governor, Mooney, nearsighted, rotund and sickly after 22½ years in San Quentin, bore little resemblance to Dreyfus, the French military officer who stood ramrod straight after Devil's Island as a court cleared him of a 19th century spy scandal.

There were parallels between the two international causes celebres: Charges of "scapegoat," prominent men rallying to defend the underdog and eventual justice.

But there was also a big difference.

Mooney probably could have walked through the prison gates many years before his pardon. However, it would have been as a paroled man—not, as he demanded, a free man.

On July 22, 1916, a suitcase bomb exploded near the Spanish-American War Veterans' contingent in the Preparedness Day parade on Market Street, killing six persons. Four others died later and 40 were injured. Mooney and his associates became immediate suspects.

A seasoned labor agitator, Mooney advocated violence in the pages of his newspaper "The Blast." His friends included the anarchists Alexander Berkman and Emma Goldman. All of them opposed American preparedness for possible entry into World War I. In 1913 Mooney had been arrested and charged with masterminding a plot to explode bombs under Bay Area electric and gas lines, but he was later acquitted.

Two men said they saw Mooney put down the suitcase, so on Feb. 24, 1917, black-haired 33-year-old Thomas J. Mooney stood erect and defiant as Judge Franklin Griffith sentenced him to death.

Mooney friend Warren Billings was sentenced to life imprisonment on conviction of making the bombs. Three others, including Mrs. Mooney, were acquitted.

Within a year doubt was cast upon the testimony of the two state witnesses. One was suspected of having a faulty memory. His remarks in the Billings trial had contradicted some made in the Mooney procedures. An affidavit was obtained stating the other man had asked a friend to come to San Francisco to testify falsely against the labor leader.

Still the hangman's noose cast its shadow next to Mooney.

It was not until 1918 that Mooney was taken from that shadow.

Doubting the witnesses, Griffith asked the state attorney general to petition the California Supreme Court for a new trial. The court said it was not able to do so.

But President Wilson, pressured by the Russian government's picturing of the condemned man as "a scapegoat of the capitalists," suggested to Gov. William D. Stephans that a new trial was in order.

Stephans said he could find nothing in the law empowering him to order a new trial. He took the only step open. He commuted the sentence to life imprisonment.

In Congress, the judiciary sub-committees of both houses approved pardon resolutions with no immediate effect except to add to the record.

The men who rallied to Mooney's side included New York Mayor James Walker who came here to plead his case. Through the years, famed Washington attorney Frank Walsh worked in Mooney's behalf. He eventually got one of the main witnesses to recant.

However, five California governors refused to pardon him.

In every application for pardon, the determined Chicago-born Irishman spurned the possibility of a parole because it would carry with it an admission of guilt.

For Mooney, freedom lasted only two years. He died at 58 following an abdominal operation, his fourth since his pardon.

Britain, Malaysia Warn Indonesia

SINGAPORE (AP) — Britain and Malaysia warned Indonesia they will meet "Indonesian aggression with resolution and in unity."

The warning to President Sukarno of Indonesia on the eve of his departure today for the Philippines came in a joint statement by Defense Minister Peter Thorneycroft of Britain and Prime Minister Tunku Abdul Rahman of Malaysia in the Malaysia capital of Kuala Lumpur.

Sukarno also was reported to have received a message from President Johnson declaring that Indonesia's hostile policy to Malaysia was impairing U.S.-Indonesian relations.

Thorneycroft declared for the second time that Britain will honor its pledge to defend Malaysia against any aggressor.

Australia and New Zealand have announced they will help to defend Malaysia in event of attack.

Indonesia has sworn to destroy Malaysia.

In Manila, Foreign Secretary Salvador P. Lopez expressed hope the meeting between Sukarno and President Diosdado Macapagal "will contribute to the lessening of tensions in this area."

The Philippines also refuses to recognize Mayalsia because it has a claim to North Borneo, which with Sarawak, Malaya and Singapore make up Malaysia. But Manila never has gone along with Jakarta's aggressive policy. Macapagal is expected to try to seek an end to the dispute.

You Might Race Sun In Airplane

FARMINGDALE, N. Y. (UPI) —A traveler may not want to race the sun westward to Hawaii early in the 1970s, but future supersonic air trips can make the wish come true, according to one expert in the field of supersonic transport.

"Whether it is a Mach 2 plane (twice the speed of sound) or a Mach 3 or better," says John Stack, vice president and director of engineering at Republic Aviation here, "you could leave London at 8 a.m., arrive in New York at 8 a.m., refuel and be in Los Angeles before 8 a.m., refuel again and be in Hawaii at 8 a.m."

Judy Williamson Report Is Checked

OAKLAND (AP) — Albany and Oakland police checked today into a 21-year-old woman's story that she was accosted by a man who said "I killed Judy Williamson."

The woman said she was showing a slender, 6-foot man the apartment she intended to vacate when he drew a knife, threatened to rape her and boasted of the coed slaying. She said she talked him out of raping her.

There are two kinds of camels—the Arabian camel, which has one hump on its back, and the Bactrian camel, which has two humps.

'Dear Editure: Like Yur Paper'

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (UPI)— This letter appeared in the first edition of the Roadrunner, a weekly newpaper which claims to be "published irregularly at Nenana, Alaska:"

"Dear Editure:

"I like yur paper very much. In fact I agree with evrything you say. It is the furst time that I have evry found a noospaper that thinks exactly the same way I due.

Water District Annex On Agenda

Annexation of the North Marin County Water District's corporation yard to the City of Novato will be discussed by the district board at 8 o'clock tonight in the district office.

Other items to be discussed include the Sonoma-Marin water agreement, purchase of emergency equipment and awarding contracts for asbestos cement pipe and backfill material.

Stone formations which hang from roofs of caves are called stalactities, while those built up from the floor of caverns are called stalagmites.

State Divorce Rate Growing

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — For every two California couples who take marriage vows, only one keeps them.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown cited the state's divorce rate—double the nation's—as he called attention yesterday to "an ever growing problem."

The governor asked the state to pay heed to hearings on some aspects of divorce by the Assembly judiciary committee tomorrow and Thursday in Los Angeles.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK

SPANISH POT ROAST*

Dredge a 4 to 5 pound semi-boneless chuck roast with seasoned flour, pounding flour into meat with edge of saucer. Now brown on both sides in ¼ cup oil. Place roast in a baking pan (having a cover), and spread with 2 green peppers, halved, seeded, and cut into strips about ½inch wide and 3 medium-sized onions, thinly sliced. Combine a #2½ can tomatoes with 1 small can of tomato paste. Pour over the roast and season with salt, pepper and a dash of thyme. Now add to the pan ¾ cup Burgundy and a 'bouquet garni' of a bay leaf tied with 6 sprigs of parsley, 2 celery tops. Bring everything to a boil, then cover, and bake in a moderate oven (350° degrees) for 2 to 2½ hours or until tender. Remove 'bouquet garni' before serving. A dry, red wine is a must here!
